

Poll Shows Gain Of U.S. Prestige In West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The popularity of U.S. foreign policy has hit a record high among West Europeans but the Soviets have scored striking gains too, according to a new U.S. Information Agency poll.

The recent rise in pro-Soviet sentiment was attributed to "the avoidance of war over Cuba— which many in Europe attribute more to Soviet moderation than to U.S. strength."

The USIA survey of opinion in four major European nations, dated last month and still classified as confidential, reported that America still runs well ahead of the Soviet Union in popular opinion.

Drop In France

It also said: 1. Confidence in U.S. leadership showed record gains in Britain and West Germany, but dropped some in France where President Charles de Gaulle is "so dramatically at odds" with President Kennedy.

2. Frenchmen nonetheless continue to hold the United States in high esteem, although de Gaulle's drive for "independence" from America is making some headway and predominant French opinion favors non-alignment with either Washington or Moscow.

Findings of USIA polls were the basis of contentions by Kennedy in his 1960 presidential campaign that U.S. prestige abroad had slumped during the Eisenhower years.

Last month USIA agreed to make public its surveys after they are at least one to two years old. Its stated reason for the delay was to avoid damage to U.S. foreign relations by publicizing current studies. Under present USIA policy, last month's poll would not be released before 1965.

Back To 1956

The new survey said USIA researchers would shortly prepare a special memorandum from the European opinion sampling dealing specifically with the Cuban situation.

The report's first conclusion from preliminary returns on the European poll was that "favorable impressions of U.S. foreign policies now stand at the highest point registered in measurements on this index extending back to 1956."

"Confidence in the ability of the U.S. to provide wise leadership for the West in dealing with present world problems," the February 1963 responses ranged from a plus 68 per cent net favorable in Germany to 10 per cent in Britain and a minus 10 per cent in France. The figures all represented gains over May 1960 except in France, where the decline was described as "limited."

As for West European opinion of the Soviets, the survey said: "The marked gains in pro-U.S. sentiment in the latest surveys in Western Europe appear to be paralleled by no less striking gains in pro-Soviet sentiment."

Peace Image Improved

"The Soviet gains are most apparent in the current extent of approval of recent Soviet policies. There is also very substantial improvement in the Soviet peace image, and some increase, except in West Germany, in the general level of esteem for the Soviet Union."

The study found the "net favorable" impressions of Soviet international conduct from June 1962 to February 1963 switched from minus 53 per cent to plus 3 per cent in Britain, from minus 66 to minus 13 in Germany and from minus 35 to plus 21 in France.

The percentages of those saying their country's basic interests agree with America's dropped some in France and Britain between February 1960 and February 1963 but climbed in Germany and Italy, the poll indicated.

The "net favorable" rate slipped from 68 per cent to 51 per cent in Britain and from 9 to 4 per cent in France, while in Germany it rose from 64 to 77 per cent. The Italian response went from 27 per cent in February to 42 per cent in June 1962, the latest count listed for Italy.

Pope John Urges Better Sharing Of World's Resources

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XIII appealed today to all men of good will to work for better use and better sharing of the world's resources.

He spoke at a private audience for 30 world leaders in science and sociology who are in Rome to draft an appeal for a united fight against hunger.

"May this world week for the fight against hunger—and the approaching world food congress in Washington — be a call and a stimulant to all men of good will," the Pope said.

Fast White House Action May Avert Railroad Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A nationwide railroad strike and quick White House intervention appeared possible today after the collapse of railroad-union negotiations on the featherbedding issue.

Just 90 minutes after Wednesday's bargaining session opened, a conference of representatives of the five operating labor unions and the railroads broke down.

H.E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, said the carrier representatives walked out of the meeting.

James E. Wolfe, chief management negotiator, said: "I don't think that anybody walked out. We told them we were disappointed and that we thought they were stalling."

Wolfe announced that the railroads will act as soon as possible to make sweeping changes in the work rules to eliminate what they call featherbedding. The carriers first notified the unions of the changes in 1959.

The unions, representing 200,000 members, have stated that such action would trigger a strike.

Wolfe said the breakdown in negotiations, the third, should lead to a fact-finding board by President Kennedy, which would delay any strike for at least 60 days. At stake are 65,000 jobs and $600 million a year.

The two sides appeared to be separated on ground rules. The railroads wanted to conduct the talks within the framework of the presidential railroad commission report of Feb. 28, 1962. This report accepted some of management's demands, and management accepted the report. The unions wanted bargaining to include their proposals.

The commission recommended elimination of the jobs of 40,000 firemen on diesel locomotives in yard and freight service. The remaining jobs involve other workers.

The unions—engineers, firemen, trainmen, brakemen and switchmen—rejected the report and tried to stop the rules revisions in the courts.

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld on March 4 management's right to make the changes. However, the rewriting of rules cannot be done until the court mandate is received later this month.

California Solon Rep. Doyle Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Clyde Doyle, D-Calif., acting chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, died unexpectedly in his sleep early today. He was 75.

The veteran congressman who was serving his ninth term had been active in congressional work in recent days. Only Wednesday night he and Mrs. Doyle had attended an American Legion banquet.

He was found dead in his bed in his home in Arlington, Va., by Mrs. Doyle at 1:30 a.m.

Doyle represented California's 23rd District—a portion of Los Angeles County. He was the ranking Democratic member of the Un-American Activities Committee and recently had been serving as its acting chairman because of the illness of the chairman, Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa. He also was a ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee.

Burglars In Cuba Face Death Edict

HAVANA (AP)—Burglars who enter home or use minors as accomplices will be liable to the death penalty, Prime Minister Fidel Castro announced Wednesday night.

In a speech televised from the steps of Havana University, he also announced that bail would no longer be allowed in felony and misdemeanor cases.

Herter Tackles Tough Task On Trade Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter, special U.S. trade negotiator, said today he does not feel that the significance of his new job was shattered by the recent French veto of Britain's entry into the Common Market.

"In some respects the veto enhanced the importance of the trade expansion program," Herter said in an interview. "It certainly complicated the matter."

Just how much the matter has been complicated may become clear in the next two months when international trade experts meet in Geneva. The Geneva talks may determine whether Herter, armed with the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, can help batter down foreign tariffs and launch booming, new U.S. trade in the 1960s.

Tariff Cuts Sighted

Some congressmen have introduced bills that would amend the Trade Expansion Act to get around the French veto. The amendments would allow Herter to negotiate for the complete elimination of tariffs when the United States, the Common Market, and Britain together account for 80 per cent of the world's trade.

"I've had some reservations on those amendments," Herter said. "If you open the whole trade expansion act up to amendments, God knows what will happen."

And, despite the French veto, Herter said, the program still gives him the power to negotiate with the Common Market and other countries to cut tariffs in half.

"But we don't know what the French attitude will be on these specific negotiations," he continued.

The Geneva meeting, he said, may unravel the French attitude. As he prepared to negotiate, Herter also faces pressures within the United States from groups seeking higher tariffs to protect American industries.

Herter said protectionist pressures have been growing greater as the Common Market has been increasing its own tariffs against American farm products.

Herter, who will be 69 in two weeks, can display a lifetime of laurels, as congressman, as governor of Massachusetts, as Secretary of state.

Working On Crutches

Now, as trade negotiator, he faces one of his most complicated and delicate tasks: Planning and negotiating tariff reductions amid

Shots At Soviet Trawler Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has denied a Soviet charge that three American warships fired on a Soviet trawler last Friday.

Six Navy destroyers fired gunnery exercises in the area—70 miles east of Norfolk, Va.—but the nearest surface ship was 12 miles away, five miles beyond the destroyers' maximum antiaircraft range, said a statement issued Wednesday night by the State Department.

The surface ship was not identified and a spokesman said he did not know if it was a Soviet vessel.

In its protest the Soviet Union said two cruisers and a destroyer fired dummy—nonexplosive—shells near a Soviet ship. This, said Moscow, was "an act of sheer wantonness which could have grave consequences."

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said he did not know whether the antiaircraft shells fired by the destroyers were dummies or live ammunition. A formal reply to Moscow's protest along the lines of Wednesday night's statement will be made, he said.

The statement described the location as "an established and recognized U.S. Navy operations area."

Red China Agrees To Discuss Their Tiff With Russia

TOKYO (AP)—Red China has agreed to meet a Soviet delegation to thrash out ideological differences splitting the two nations and has called a truce in the war of words between Peking and Moscow.

But the Chinese insisted their hard line against the West still is the correct Communist policy. They also stood by demands that the Kremlin drop talk of peaceful coexistence, abandon its championship of the Yugoslav Communists and make up with Albania.

Replying to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal for a reconciliation meeting of Soviet and Chinese leaders, the Chinese Communist party and Chairman Mao Tse-tung in a letter made public Wednesday invited Khrushchev to stop in Peking during a trip he is expected to make to Cambodia this spring.

The Chinese said in that is not convenient, the Soviet Communist party can send a delegation to Peking "headed by another responsible comrade, or we can send a delegation to Moscow."

Mao said nothing about going to Moscow himself.

Moscow announcements of the Chinese invitation gave no indication that Khrushchev will go to Peking.

Peking said it will stop immedi-

Mud-Filled Homes Greet Returning Flood Refugees

By The Associated Press

Mud, muck and misery greeted thousands of families returning to their homes today in portions of five southern states hit hardest by rampaging rivers and streams.

Other thousands were homeless till, but the torrential rains were over and the flood waters were receding in most sections.

Property damage mounted to many millions of dollars, and massive cleanup operations added to the cost. Thick mud coated homes, businesses and roads in some areas. Occasional mudslides blocked streets.

Parts of southeastern Kentucky and southwestern West Virginia were declared disaster areas by President Kennedy.

Bus Trapped 8 Hours

Fifteen deaths were attributed to the floods and five persons were missing. Six died in West Virginia, four in Tennessee, two in Kentucky, two in Virginia and one in Alabama.

Volunteers built an emergency wall of dirt to augment a flood wall at Prestonsburg, Ky., and the barrier turned back the Big Sandy River with just four inches to spare.

At Paintsville, down river from Prestonsburg, water was reported over the parking meters on the main street. About 1,000 of the 2,400 persons in the town were evacuated, but a Civil Defense spokesman described the situation as well in hand.

Ten passengers and a driver were rescued from a Greyhound bus trapped for more than eight hours in flood waters on a highway 35 miles west of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Amphibious vehicles were used to remove the passengers and bus driver Forrest F. Darnell of Memphis, Tenn. He said he was forced to stop the vehicle in shallow water sweeping across highway 64 when a car stalled in front of him shortly after midnight Wednesday.

Dams Control River

The water rose quickly to about four feet and poured two feet deep into the bus, he said.

"The water was so swift it picked up the front of the bus and set it on the shoulder of the road," he said. "The bus rocked all night."

Elsewhere, the Tennessee River approached flood level but was expected to be held in control by Tennessee Valley Authority dams and spillways. Other rivers were receding.

In West Virginia the Guyandotte and Tug rivers were back within their banks in the southern portion of the state after Tuesday's flooding left property damage estimated at $7.2 million by U.S. Army Engineers.

Flood waters also were going down in southwestern Virginia where the Red Cross was feeding and sheltering about 1,000 families.

Terrorists Hit Venezuela Again

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Terrorists were busy again in Venezuela Wednesday night. Communists and Castroites were blamed.

One band blew up transformers carrying electricity to five communities on the coast southwest of Caracas.

Another group bombed a cooking oil factory in Valencia, knocking out 40 per cent of the machinery. No one was injured. A university student was arrested.

Troops guarded the 24,727-ton tanker Esso Maracaibo after the National Liberation Front sent letters to the Creole Petroleum Corp. Threatening to hijack the ship as they did the government-owned freighter Anzoategui last month. The tanker is waiting to take on cargo at Lake Maracaibo.

The current project will serve the counties of Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Barry, Eaton, Branch, Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph and Van Buren.

Kennedy Plans 3 Speeches For Costa Rica Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will give three public speeches during his three-day visit to Costa Rica next week.

They are included in a busy schedule of conferences and ceremonies outlined Wednesday by the White House.

His first address—outside of remarks on arriving on Costa Rica Monday—will come later in the day at the opening session of his conference at San Jose with presidents of the six Central American republics.

The White House said the President intends to spend this weekend in Palm Beach, flying to San Jose from there Monday morning.

Vacancies Filled

LANSING (AP)—George Liddle, city manager of Muskegon, Wednesday was reappointed to the Water Resources Commission by Gov. George Romney. The governor also appointed three new members to the Michigan Potato Industry Council to fill vacancies for terms expiring in 1965. The appointees were Woodrow Case of Kalamazoo, Alex Walraven Jr., of Essexville, and Floyd Lynn of Homer.

Tax On Betting At Horse Races To Be Boosted

LANSING (AP)—With a one-man resistance movement firmly squelched in an off-the-floor battle, the House today appeared ready to approve two bills for a $25 million Olympic stadium to be built in Detroit.

The second of the two bills providing for an increase on state taxes on horse race betting, reached the floor Wednesday after Gov. George Romney and House Republican leaders overcame the objections of Rep. Lloyd Gibbs, R-Portland.

It emerged with one minor change from Gibbs' State Affairs Committee. A companion bill, setting up a special recreation building authority to issue stadium revenue bonds, came back to the floor with two amendments tacked on by the Ways and Means Committee.

Governor Makes Bid

"This is a victory for Michigan," declared Romney.

Passage of the two bills by the House today could put them on Romney's desk before he leaves to help make Detroit's renewed pitch for the 1968 Olympics in New York Monday.

The governor will join other Michigan and Detroit officials in making a presentation to regain the U.S. Olympic Committee's sanction, lost last month after a campaign by Los Angeles.

"This is a demonstration of unity," Romney said. "With this support, we'll be able to make a firm, strong presentation to the Olympic Committee."

The only thing appearing to complicate matters was Romney's reported objections to two amendments to the stadium authority bill—one setting a $30 million limit on bonding, the other specifying no bonds can be sold before March 31, 1964.

After House passage, the bills would return to the Senate where they originated and were passed. There were predictions by some lawmakers that an effort to remove the two amendments would be made there.

Dog Racing Proposed

"I still think it's bad legislation," said Gibbs. He objected to the pari-mutuels bill on grounds it could mean tax money would be used for the Olympic stadium.

The bill provides that a one-to-two per cent increase in the state's share from wagered money at thoroughbred and harness tracks would go into the treasury as a guarantee that the bonds and interest would be paid off.

It would be used if rental income from post-Olympic use of the stadium failed to meet bond payments.

Gibbs had unsuccessfully sought an amendment making the pari-mutuel increase contingent on Detroit landing the Olympic bid.

Romney said he understood the U.S. Olympic Committee expected to have its decision on a 1968 bidder within a few hours after the cities make their presentations.

The House State Affairs Committee also reported out a bill to legalize greyhound racing in Michigan.

It bounced out of the committee in company with the bill to increase state taxes on horse race pari-mutuels.

"We wanted the pari-mutuels bill but we didn't ask for the greyhound bill," said Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, the House Republican floor leader. Gibbs offered little explanation of why the greyhound bill emerged when it did.

More Gambling Tie

"The committee did it," said Gibbs. "Maybe it was just to please the governor. Everybody is trying to tell this committee what to do. If the governor wants these racing bills, he can have them."

Gibbs said he raised no objections to the bill being reported out although he is not anxious to see "gambling interests" in the state expanded.

"This would just mean another group will be getting a slice of the gambling pie," he said.

Rep. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, chief sponsor of the bipartisan dog racing bill, said he didn't expect the bill to come out of committee as it did and wasn't pleased about it.

He indicated he would ask that it be sent to the Ways and Means

Carpenters Aid School Project

The services of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local 1832, are being offered in the construction of a school for mentally retarded children, proposed to be built this year.

Meeting last night in special session the Carpenters and Joiners voted unanimously to provide the carpenter manpower required for the project.

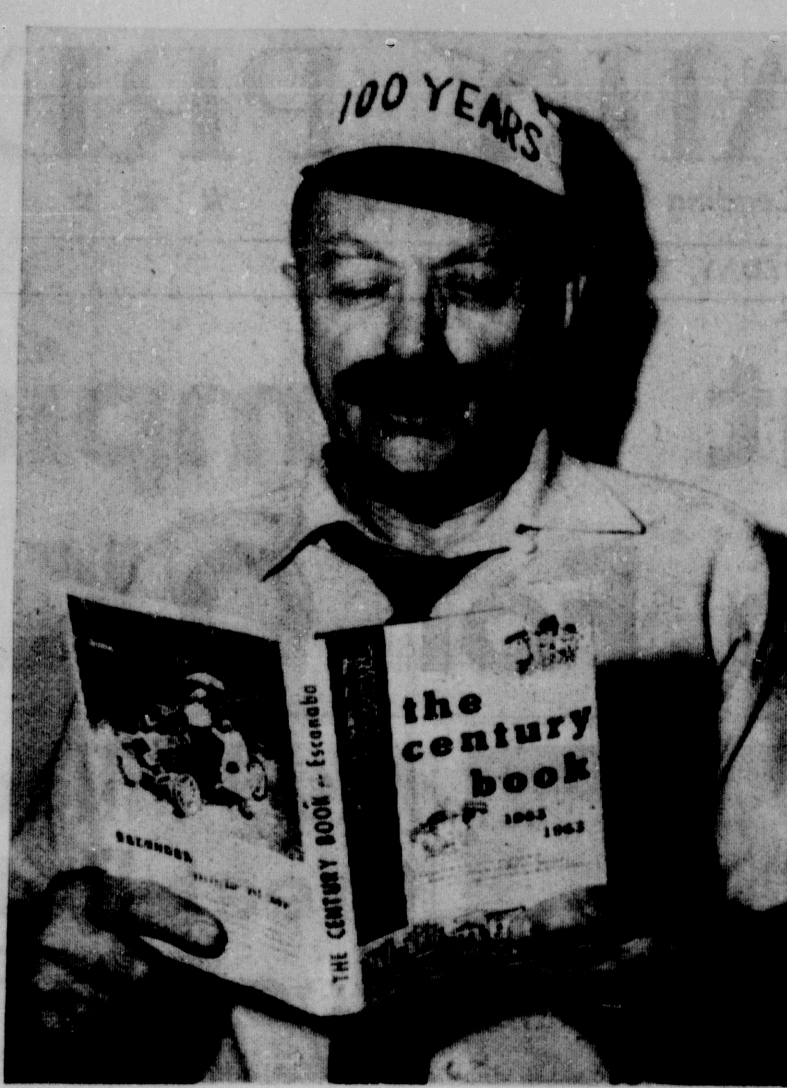

Arthur Olson and Ben Desilets were appointed to work out details with the Project Pride committee and to get men on the job as the need arises.

The project is being financed through public constructions of money, labor and materials.

Cost of the building on a site provided by the Escanaba Area Public Schools near the Webster Annex is estimated at $20,000. The construction is scheduled to start this spring and have the building ready for occupancy next fall.

Escanaba's Lively Past Recalled In The Century Book

Escanaba has such a lively and eventful history, there's so much going on today and the future is so promising that the authors of The Century Book found they had a problem in telling their story in 250 pages, reports Clint Dunathan, who edited the work.

"The Century Book is a local product of the Centennial Year," he said. "It was researched and written by Escanaba men and women, was printed in Escanaba, and will be off the press and ready for sale by May 1."

The "book shelf book" will have hard-covers, have 27 chapters whose contents will range from the adventuresome early days to the present, and will be illustrated with more than 50 photographs and sketches. There will be no advertising in it.

On Sale May 1

Plans for the promotion and sale of the book were made at a meeting of a committee headed by George Greenholm. Others at the meeting last night at the Chamber of Commerce building were Robert Barron, Frank Kaim, Bertel Stadel, Duncan Cameron, Karl Dickson and Dave Coon.

The book project is one of several which will help finance the Centennial celebration. The book will sell for $2.50 and orders are now being received by the Centennial Corporation, with delivery to be made shortly after May 1.

The Century Book will contain entertaining and interesting facts about the way people lived, as well as information of historical significance. It will not be a "history book" in the usual meaning of the term, rather it will serve as a commentary to the story of Escanaba and its people for the first 100 years, said Dunathan.

Fact And Folklore

In the Century Book old Calico will ride again; Escanaba's "Fever Girl" a brief and famous puzzle to medical science, will be recorded; the Belle Harvey Story of the little girl lost will be told; and readers will have the opportunity for the first time to pursue the personal diary of Eli P. Royce, founder of the City of Escanaba.

The heroic era of the big trees, the story of the lumber barons and the lumberjacks; tales of men and ships and the growth of Escanaba's marine trade; the railroads, the mills, the docks — all this and more is a part of the book.

The inspiration of the community's churches, the history of Escanaba's schools both public and private, the growth of the town from a raw pioneer settlement to Escanaba as the library center of the Upper Peninsula are a part of the book. The development of medical and hospital services, the progress of health care for the aged — these and other subjects are covered in the Century Book.

There is the story of the growth of organized labor from lumberjack days when the only "lost time" on the job was the hours spent in sleep to the present five-day 40-hour work week.

Many Authors

Development of law and order, of courts of justice and civil authority; and the progress in municipal affairs that has made Escanaba one of the best-governed cities in the nation is told in the Century Book.

Many people have assembled the material needed for the volume. Among the chapter authors are:

Menominee Tax Values Down

MENOMINEE—Prospects of a hike in the city tax rate for 1963 loomed after the annual meeting of the Board of Tax Review found assessed tax valuations skidding for the fourth year in a row. This year's valuation was set at $17,937,200, a loss of about $360,000 under last year's valuation.

But more telling as far as city finances are concerned is the fact that city tax valuations have declined a total of $3,687,275 in the last four years under the peak of $21,634,475 reached in 1959.

Most of this near $4 million loss was in personal property assessments in local industries.

Job absenteeism is at its height during the month of February, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. More workers are out than due to illness and injury than in any other month of the year.

Sister Aidan Dies At Manitowoc

Sister M. Aidan, 62, of Holy Family Convent, Silver Springs, near Manitowoc, Wis., former teacher in the parochial schools of Manitowoc and Ironwood, and a sister of Fred and Richard Juetten of Escanaba, died Sunday. Funeral services were held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at the Convent chapel.

A former Elton resident, Sister Aidan taught in Catholic schools throughout Wisconsin, usually in the capacity of principal. She also taught in Melrose Park, Chicago and Ypsilanti, in addition to her assignments in the Upper Peninsula. She had been in Petoskey the past year and a half.

She was born Mary Ann Juetten Feb. 21, 1901, at Elton, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Juetten.

She attended Elton School and on April 27, 1920, entered Holy Family Convent. She attended the convent high school and college, St. Norbert's College, De Pere, and Marquette University, Milwaukee, where she received her master's degree.

Her survivors are one sister and eight brothers.

New Flu Virus Strain Found

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of two new strains of influenza virus—with all indications that one of them was largely responsible for this winter's widespread flu epidemics—was disclosed today.

The new strains were identified too late for this season's vaccine to include extra guards against them, it was learned.

One is a new and potent form of the Asian flu virus which first appeared in 1957. This new strain is the one held mainly responsible for this year's outbreak of flu—with the available vaccine having only limited power against it. Public Health Service doctors told a reporter.

Vaccine Ineffective

Studies have indicated that in animals, the present vaccine affords no protection at all against the new virus, they said. Preliminary evidence from human studies is that this winter the vaccine showed "appreciably less" than its usual 75 per cent efficiency—presumably because of the new virus.

Influenza cases have been unusually severe this winter, often lasting up to two weeks instead of the usual three or four days. School absenteeism has ranged up to 73 per cent of pupils in some schools. Death rates from pneumonia, complicated by flu, have been unusually high among the elderly in some communities.

The other newcomer to the elusive brigade of viruses is a new strain of type B influenza virus. Type B and type A are the two major types of flu virus. Each has several sub-strains.

So far, the new B-type strain appears to have been confined to a single schoolhouse in Formosa where it was first detected last November.

Scientists of the National Institutes of Health say it has the potential for spreading through the world next winter.

An example of this swift spreading is the new strain of Asian flu virus which NIH researchers said first appeared in Tokyo in January 1962.

Tests Show Progress

It wasn't until last June, when samples of the virus were obtained from abroad by NIH's Division of Biologic Standards, that first strong evidence was obtained that this was a new strain of Asian flu. It wasn't confirmed until November.

It was too late to include the new virus in the vaccine to be used in preparation for the winter of 1962-1963.

Millions of doses of vaccine had already been manufactured and distributed. It would have taken up to six months to tool up for inclusion of the new strain.

Also, scientists still couldn't be sure the new strain would hit the United States, although there was evidence it had cropped up in Formosa and New Zealand as well as Japan.

Meanwhile, an experimental vaccine employing the new virus was developed at NIH. In tests on human volunteers, including more than 100 federal prisoners, the vaccine gave indications of protective value.

How did the new strains of virus develop?

No one really knows.

One concept is that such mutations may result partly from a natural adaptation of the virus to some threat to its existence, such as vaccine.

Nature's own radiations — including cosmic rays—may be another factor, scientists say. Radiation from nuclear tests is still another possibility, "although, at present, there is no way to prove this—or disprove it."

Who To Believe?

Michigan approaches the April 1 election and the tempo of debate on the proposed new state constitution increases.

The Democratic Party of Michigan is opposed to the new constitution as party policy. If Republican Governor George Romney, who was an officer of the constitutional convention which wrote the new document, did not stand to take political strength nationally from its triumph at the polls April 1, the party might not be found in opposition.

Even as it is, many Democratic leaders are on record publicly as advocating adoption of the new constitution. One of these is a leader of great stature, former U.S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, who is chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. Brown, an attorney, has had such a distinguished career in politics—he was a congressman representing this district before he was U.S. Senator, and he was United States price administrator and has served in other important roles—that he has bipartisan support.

Brown brings an attorney's skill and a vast experience in government to judgment on the new constitution and so he is not influenced by the opposition's scare campaign to defeat it, employing such pleas as: "Save our roads," "If you don't know—Vote No!," "Civil service will give way to the spoils system," etc.

"After careful reading and study, I have decided to vote for it," said Brown. "It is a good—in fact, much better—constitution than we now have. In the main we will have an improved body of fundamental law."

Noting that the Democratic Party is opposed to the new constitution, Brown said "We don't have to follow that stand. I am still a Democrat, but they're just not right about it."

Malapportionment of legislative seats is the main complaint of the Democrats, said Brown, but he regards legislative districting strictly on population to effect "absolute equality of representation" a practical impossibility. He believes that the deviation from equality should be a legislative rather than a judicial matter; that the people should decide apportionment, not the courts.

"The apportionment struggle is largely a sham battle," said Brown "and geographical apportionment is really of little consequence." (The state Senate under the new constitution would be weighted 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area; the House would be districted solely on population.)

The proposed new constitution, points out Brown, achieves more equitable apportionment on a population basis for the Democrats than the present constitution, but they oppose it.

The election is one which calls upon the citizens of Michigan to be unusually zealous in the protection of their interests. This requires understanding of the issue. In simplest terms it is: Is the proposed new constitution better than the present one, adopted in 1908?

Many Democrats who are concerned more with modern government for Michigan than with whether John Mackie is highway commissioner or George Romney is president have felt it necessary to reject their party's official stand against the new constitution. Overwhelmingly the people that the state elected to write the new constitution and Michigan's lawyers and judges, who are best able to appraise it, favor the new document.

Helping The Brainy

Dr. George B. Brain, Baltimore's superintendent of public instruction, told a Washington conference of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency that creativity in youngsters is fairly easy to identify. The problem is to figure out how to use it.

"Often in programs of mass instruction it is disruptive," he says. "It is looked upon as a disciplinary problem."

Brain insists there are few schools, even private ones, which do very much about the creative individual except in the fields of art and music.

The imagination and interest of many creative persons simply is not captured by mass instruction or other group routines. Rebellion is a prime weapon of protest used by such youngsters.

How do you serve their real needs? Carve out large blocks of school time, says Brain, and turn the creative ones free to develop in their own ways.

But such special treatment for the creative, as for the backward or the incorrigible, costs money. Mass education techniques have been part of the price of schooling more and more youngsters toward higher and higher education levels. And even for these, the complaint is that the money is insufficient.

So, whence will come the money for this extra effort which may be needed to rescue some of our most promising youngsters?

Aid For Disadvantaged

There are perhaps 40 million Americans today who are seriously disadvantaged—poverty-stricken, handicapped, ill, forgotten.

Thanks to efforts like Michael Harrington's excellent "The Other America," some of us in this country are perhaps a little more aware now of these unfortunate millions.

They include, of course, migratory workers, the out-of-work in abandoned Appalachian coal fields, aged folk cast aside, the young and unskilled who can't find jobs, and many more.

Our society can't be accounted a full success until we find a way to lift such millions out of their half-world of despair and disillusion.

The commentator who called attention to their plight performed a useful service. But he was unrealistic in suggesting that strong words from the President can magically start these people on the road up.

The burden of Harrington's book is that the "other America" is largely hidden in a nation essentially prosperous. And, no matter how loud the President's voice, Congress is not in the habit of legislating about hidden problems.

It acts when they are out in the open, feeding a fire that every lawmaker can feel. On the problem in question, admittedly a grave one, we have barely begun to gather the kindling.

Government Expense

Congressman George Gooding charged that Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze sent a 520 word telegram for the President's Medicare proposal to each member of the House of Representatives a few blocks away at a total cost of $3,562. A mimeographed copy would have done the job. Taxpayers who work all year to pay a federal income tax of $3,500 have a right to complain to the secretary about such waste of their money.

"Don't Just Stand There!"

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Kennedy's first "manpower report" to Congress is seen here as inaugurating something brand new in the federal government. This was a special message on unemployment—where it is now, where it's going, what should be done about it. The President calls this "the No. 1 economic problem."

The message and an accompanying comprehensive report from Department of Labor on "manpower requirements, resources, utilization and training" brought together all the separate programs the President has proposed to reduce unemployment.

These programs began with the Depressed Area Redevelopment Act of 1961, and the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. One section of this latter act calls for an annual report to Congress on the country's manpower situation.

In time, this message may rank in importance with the President's budget and economic messages. The manpower report will deal with human resources instead of fiscal resources. For as the President says, "Manpower is the basic resource."

"The ideal of full employment—in the large sense that each individual shall become all that he is capable of becoming and shall contribute fully to the well-being of the nation even as he fully shares in that well-being—is at the heart of our democratic belief," says the President.

Programs Kennedy has proposed this year to increase employment include tax changes, the youth employment bill, expanded educational opportunities at all levels, a strengthened unemployment insurance system, broadened minimal wage law coverage and civil rights measures which will end discrimination in employment.

Bringing these programs together puts the focus on their common ultimate objective—reduction of unemployment, over 5.5 per cent of the last five years. The statistics and charts in the manpower report all seem to point to the conclusion that unemployment will get worse as the population and labor force grow in the 1960s and 1970s, unless preventative measures can be taken now.

A foreword to the Labor Department's report by Secretary W. Willard Wirtz calls attention to two other supplementary reports which will complete the survey of human resources.

The first, already issued, covers training activities in the first six months since the Manpower Development Act became law. It shows that 25,000 workers, unemployed for more than a year, are now in training in 700 schools at a cost of about $1,200 for each worker.

The second supplementary report, still to be issued by Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary, Health, Education and Welfare, is to include a survey on vocational training.

All this material is to be made the subject of extensive congressional investigation. In handling manpower legislation during the last Congress, a Senate Labor subcommittee on employment was set up under Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa. He intends to hold further hearings over several months.

Owing to the present unsettled conditions in the House Education and Labor Committee, it is uncertain whether Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., will hold similar hearings. But eventually it is hoped there will be joint Senate-House hearings on all problems affecting employment.

In one sense, this may cut across jurisdiction of the Joint Committee on Economic Report which was created by the Full Employment Act of 1946. But in recent years the economic committee has concentrated on fiscal, monetary and general issues which only indirectly influence employment.

It is the threat of growing unemployment in the years ahead that has brought on this new, special attention from the President and Congress.

A White House conference on unemployment is under consideration for this spring, to build up public support for the President's program. Later, there will be regional conferences held by Department of Labor.

FOREST MANAGEMENT

Commenting on the article "Porcupine Park Wilderness Land Is Rated Error": The real error is in the present way of evaluation. The upgrading for a good timber stand by thinning, etc., is definitely a prerequisite for a good timber stand and is part of good forestry. However, the intrinsic value of the wilderness is greatly impaired.

Regional areas of primordial forests are shrinking and disappearing all over the world. As time goes on these sanctuaries will become priceless, mainly to science students and nature lovers. The wilderness area of Porcupine Mountains State Park should be preserved as is, and will be appreciated more and more as time goes on.

How true it is that the casual visitor cannot tell cutover from virgin woodland because he has never seen virgin woodland. It is getting that way more and more every generation. This whole world is getting to be open country for reasons of economy or recreation for people who have only from 10 minutes to one lifetime to take it all in.

Why not leave a good thing be, it costs nothing to leave it be and will only have its singular attractive power if left intact.

Power and pipe lines—yes, even ski slides—can spoil the natural beauty of wooded hills. Recreative and timber producing woods we have or can plant for that matter but the charm and attraction of a wilderness we can only have if it is left untouched.

To try to keep a virgin woods preserve by private ownership is very discouraging because the next generation may lack the sentiment and despoil it all. So it's up to conservation organizations to achieve the perpetual endeavor.

Old Timer

Rapid River

(Editor's note: The article cited comment by Forester Bruce Bucell, one of the persons who helped create Porcupine Mountains State Park, that a square mile of old timber which he cruised before park acquisition is now a fallen-down ruin and berry patch because it was not managed to preserve its wilderness character in park status.)

Sheriff Johnson:

Saturday's Escanaba Daily Press stated that the State Dog Law required the disposal of any dog found running loose. I read the State Dog Law. The Compiled Laws, Michigan, Volume 2, Page 5191 Section 18, reads as follows: Duty of an officer on complaint to kill any dog or dogs which are found outside an incorporated city, running at large and unaccompanied by owner or keeper. Our dog was picked up by the city police, not on complaint and inside the city limits.

In the same article you said, "We've been fortunate so far in that no child has been seriously bitten. One of these days some child will be bitten and probably die of rabies, then ask yourself the question, what's more important, a dog or a child." Yes, we are fortunate, but you are using scare tactics.

The city manager told me that only the City of Escanaba requires a rabies inoculation certificate before purchase of a county dog license. Delta County does not require this certificate. Why not?

When a child or adult is bitten the dog is by law tied for 10 days under the owner's care. At present there is a dog being held at the Animal Hospital for 10 days. He bit a child in the Franklin School area, the owner not known. A dead animal if suspected of being rabid is tested at a state laboratory. I am not worried about rabies in Escanaba. What about the other residents of Delta County?

One of our children has been bitten twice by the same dog. Both times the police have told the owner to tie him up for 10 days. These people never were fined, nor has the dog ever had a dog license.

I am glad the County Board of Supervisors has taken action and is looking into the possibility of a dog pound. Since 550 dogs are picked up in Delta County yearly, that is less than two dogs a day. Surely these dogs could have a few days for the owners to find them. WLST and WDBC provide a public service for Escanaba citizens, couldn't the Sheriff's Department take advantage of advertising once a day for dogs found? If the owner wants his dog he will advertise or call the authorities.

Mrs. Edward C. Fordney

CONSTITUTION DEBATE?

I know that the papers and radio stations are not supposed to take sides on any issues and I am not asking the Press to. I would like to know if there is going to be any debates and discussions pro and con on the new constitution?

I have heard plenty for the new constitution, but not much against it. I believe the people in order to know just what they want to vote for want to hear both sides of the story. Would it be possible to have a public forum on this issue with both represented and a discussion to follow? I certainly think the people of Escanaba want to know both for and against the new constitution and will surely vote much wiser for it. At least they will have the knowledge and background to help them decide.

An Escanaban at Heart (Most forensics on the constitution has been partisan and not well attended. Press and radio coverage has been non-partisan, except for editorial comment. The Citizens Research Council and Delta County Coordinating Committee on the Constitution will present a free public seminar on the constitution at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 28 in the State Office Building. Much literature, pro and con, on the new document is available.)

Junior College Advantages Told

ANN ARBOR—Two-year community-junior colleges have five major advantages, says Merritt M. Chambers, University of Michigan visiting professor of higher education.

"The benefits of these colleges are so outstanding that eventually nearly every high-school graduate will have access to a two-year college within commuting distance from his home," says Chambers.

The advantages as he sees them are:

1. "A two-year college near enough to allow the student to attend without leaving his home means a possible saving of perhaps $500 to $1,000 a year, and means that many competent students can and will attend who would not otherwise be able to go to college at all.

2. "The two-year college typically offers 'college-parallels' courses in liberal arts which enable its graduates to enter universities or four-year colleges at the level of the junior year, and proceed upward with the same or better success than 'native' students of the same university or college.

3. "The two-year college also typically provide some technical and semiprofessional courses which enable their graduates to go immediately into employment in factories, stores, offices, or farms. Some also give work in nursing, dental hygiene, and medical or dental secretarial work, and home economics. These courses properly include at least a modicum or advanced general education so that the graduate is a definitely better informed citizen as well as a trained technician.

4. "The two-year college is in a substantial sense a 'trial college' or a 'screening group' in which many students seem to reach, for the time at least, the limit of their capacity to profit from further formal education, and are thus eliminated, at least for a time, without the expense to themselves and to the public which would have been involved in attending a distant university or college.

5. "The two-year college typically becomes a community cultural center offering academic or vocational courses or both to employed adult persons in the locality. It also provides occasional lectures, concerts, recitals, plays and other events open to the general public as well as to students, thus becoming a source of pleasure and pride to the community."

Mines, Union OK New Ore Taxation

ISHPEMING—“The Steelworkers Union and the mining industry have reached agreement on proposed legislation which would stabilize the tax base, thereby encouraging new employment and the continued operation of the present deep shaft underground mines in Michigan,” spokesmen for labor and management announced today.

The joint statement was issued by Earl Bestor, Duluth district director of the United Steelworkers the union representing the iron ore miners of the Upper Peninsula, and by the Michigan Mining Association, composed of all the iron ore producing companies.

The legislation referred to is House Bill 635, which would remove underground mines from ad valorem tax rolls and place them under a specific tax if the ore were agglomerated, and House Bill 209, which would provide for gradual equalization of evaluation of mining and non-mining properties in

Gladwin Youths Begin 150-Mile Endurance Test

ST. IGNACE—“50-Mile Hikers Are Pikers.”

With this slogan, three Gladwin youths will test their endurance and physical fitness in a 150-mile walk from Gladwin to St. Ignace.

The boys, Larry Hager, 16, Dick Kaletto, 20, and Lynn Morgan, 16, will begin the long walk today making overnight stops in Roscommon, Gaylord and Cheboygan, and terminating at St. Ignace Sunday.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority has granted permission for the trio to walk the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, and they will be met in Mackinaw City by State Representatives Joseph H. Mack of Gogebic County, and Walter G. Nakula of Gladwin, who will accompany them on the walk over the bridge.

The boys will be given an escort from Cheboygan to Mackinaw City by Cheboygan County Sheriff Harold L. Werner, and Mackinac County Sheriff Charles Garries is organizing a reception committee, which will include St. Ignace Mayor Roy Carlson, to greet the party upon its arrival in St. Ignace.

areas of the Upper Peninsula where the evaluations are not nearly equal now.

“For several weeks,” the joint statement said, “representatives of the union and of the mining companies have been meeting to see whether there could be agreement on this formerly controversial issue. Both sides recognized that Michigan mining operations were facing severe competition from other areas and that a critical economic and unemployment problem existed in Northern Michigan.

“Both were hopeful that reasonable tax legislation assuring fair tax treatment would tend to help Michigan meet this competition and encourage investment in new plants, as well as encourage the continuation of presently existing operations, thereby protecting employment in this state. It was recognized that such legislation could not guarantee the construction of new plants or the continuation of present mines, but if removal of the fear of excessive taxation was accomplished, it could encourage the continuation of present mines and construction of new facilities.

“We have agreed on suitable legislation which has been submitted to the legislature with our request for passage. The details of the legislation have been worked out by both parties.”

New Lead Found On Missing Wife

BROOKLYN (AP) — State police and Jackson County sheriff's officers are working on a new lead in the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Joan Watkins, 28, from a coin-operated laundry here Feb. 17.

Officers were checking on a telephone call to the home of the woman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Ferry of Waldron, the morning of the disappearance.

The parents were not home when the phone call came about 10 hours after Mrs. Watkins was reported missing, but other members of the family were in the house. Detectives said no one recalled taking the collect call.

Bove is the nephew of Mrs. Gladys Casey of Wells and William E. Johnson of 605 N. 19th.

Ford Urges State Industry Quest To Save U.P. Dairying

LANSING — Michigan shouldn't desert the industries it has in the quest of new ones, a Delta County dairy farmer told the House Agriculture Committee of the Michigan Legislature in a hearing here Tuesday on bill to prohibit unfair practices in dairy products marketing.

Clayton Ford of Cornell, representing Delta County dairy farmers, the Michigan Farm Bureau and the Michigan Milk Producers Association, told the hearing chaired by Rep. Andrew W. Cobb (R-Elstie) “for the past several years we have heard a great deal about the need for more jobs in Michigan about the distressed Upper Peninsula and the Area Redevelopment Administration program to solve our problems.

“The Upper Peninsula still has a $12 million annual dairy business and it should act to save it. We should not overlook what we've got in trying to get new industry.”

Ford said the Upper Peninsula's dairy industry is under threat of extinction by the pricing practices of Wisconsin dairy firms. “Our milk producers are not opposed to outside competition and are not looking for milk barriers at the state line.” “They only ask a chance for fair competition.

“For years we have had problems of discounts and milk price wars. An outside dairy was fined for violation of the anti-trust law a few years ago.

Fatal Contest

“The new store dock drop plan of milk delivery every other day could—especially in summer—create a problem of milk quality. And how does it happen that some dairies are selling milk in the towns where they process it for as much or more as they are in towns to which they truck it 100 miles away?”

Ford said he had no way of learning actual milk production costs, but that he believed that at present wholesale prices to U.P. stores for milk, Upper Peninsula dairies competing with Wisconsin milk could not stay in business.

More More

The difference between wholesale and retail prices was out of line with good practice. Wholesale prices, now as much as 12 cents a half gallon above retail prices, could be high enough to allow processors to survive and still provide an adequate store profit margin, Ford suggested. U. P. dairies, he said, sell only in the U. P. and have no chance to make up sales losses there elsewhere as do the Wisconsin dairies.

Protest Loss Leader
A Grand Rapids dairy industry representative speaking for the bill protested the use of milk and bread, two basic foods, as loss leader items in supermarkets. He cited that three half gallons of milk were selling in Grand Rapids for less than $1 and two loaves of bread for a quarter.

Other witnesses for House Bill 602 included Glenn Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, dairy industry representatives from Detroit and other Lower Peninsula communities, and spectators like George S. McIntyre, state director of agriculture, and Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Delta) one of the authors of the dairy trade bill.

The bill is like a similar bill vetoed two years ago by Governor Swainson, except that it omits a clause requiring that dairy products be priced to provide an 8 per cent profit margin. The earlier bill ran into Detroit milk consumer opposition founded ed on fear that it would raise retail milk prices.

No Decision Yet

The new bill would prohibit selling of dairy products below cost of production, granting of secret rebates, gifts of equipment, etc. The bill was opposed by a representative of chain stores, who said it would increase prices.

The committee took the hearing testimony under advisement and made no commitment on the fate of the bill, which the dairy industry hopes to have the committee send to the floor of the House for debate and passage.

The Upper Peninsula delegation in support of the bill included, beside Ford, William Jilbert of Calumet, head of the Jilbert Dairy and president of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers Association; Ed Czupiga, White-Way Dairy, Iron River; and Delta Dairymen Clarence Dittrich, Morton Schire and Lowell Steff.

Death Claims Wilfred Belland

Wilfred Belland, 75, of 602 N. 18th St. died at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Newberry State Hospital. He had been ill the past year.

Mr. Belland was born in Champion Dec. 12, 1887, and had lived in Escanaba since 1904. He was a sheet metal worker for the Chicago & North Western Railway many years and retired seven years ago. He was a member of St. Thomas Church and Holy Name Society, a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters, Court 392, and also was affiliated with the Sheet Metal Workers Union, of which he was a past secretary.

He married the former Maude Rabideau May 27, 1911.

She survives with one son, Robert, Escanaba, two grandsons, Robert Jr. and Stephen, two sisters, Mrs. Harry (Nellie) Moreau and Mrs. Wilfred (Exina) LeDuc, Escanaba, and three brothers, James of Marquette, William, Rapid River, and Dr. Fred A. Belland, Sharon, Pa.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home after 3 p. m. Friday. The parish rosary vigil will be held at 8:30. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. at St. Thomas Church with Father Arnold Thompson officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Discussion Held On ADC-U Bill

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney said Wednesday his federal Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed bill may have some weaknesses, but termed it “100 per cent better than no bill at all.”

“A partial reform actually accomplished and in operation is worth a thousand still in the pamphlet or argument stage,” the governor told the legislative forum of the Michigan Welfare League.

“A course that resists the possible and insists on the impossible is obstructionism, just as surely as any veto bloc in any legislative body anywhere.”

Some 200 members of the league attended the meeting at which the governor, judges, social workers and other in related fields discussed crime and delinquency, mental health, human relations and welfare problems.

Romney took note that his ADC-U program proposal was criticized as “inadequate” last week by league officials.

He said criticisms that the bill is too restrictive, limits the number of people eligible for benefits and sets up unwise eligibility standards, “may have some validity,” but added:

“This bill is much more liberal than the present situation, in which this aid is not available to any unemployed parents.”

Fedele Fauri, University of Michigan School of Social Work dean and former Upper Peninsula welfare department director, told the Welfare League that the legislation discriminates against the low man in the unemployment bracket.

He used as example an Upper Peninsula pulpwood cutter employed by a jobber who had only three workers. He would not be eligible for unemployment compensation (restricted to four employees or more) and hence would not be eligible for ADC-U. His neighbor, working for a larger employer, would be eligible, but he would not, though his need might be greater, said Fauri.

The bill, he said, will not cover many who need coverage, but it appears to be the best coverage that can be enacted at this time.

Sisson Appointment To State Board Of Barbers Is Urged

Jack Sisson, operator of the Palace Barber Shop at 110 S. 11th St., is being urged by his friends throughout the Upper Peninsula as an appointee by Governor Romney to the State Board of Examiners of Barbers.

Sisson, 68, has been a barber for 35 years and a resident of Escanaba for 12 years. He is president of the Upper Peninsula Council of Barbers which has endorsed his candidacy for the board.

There will be a vacancy on the three man board this spring and it will give Governor Romney an opportunity to name an Upper Peninsula barber again. There formerly was a U.P. barber on the board, but there has not been one for several years.

Sisson is past president of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club, is currently Region 1 (U.P.) vice president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, and has been a Barbers Union Officer.

Too many people get the idea that free speech is of no value to those who have nothing to say.

Accreditation Of Hospital Renewed

St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba and Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital in Manistique again are among 13 Upper Peninsula hospitals accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, it announced today in Chicago.

The other U.P. hospitals accredited are: Copper County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and St. Joseph Hospital, Hancock; Dickinson County Memorial Hospital, Iron Mountain; Francis A. Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming; Baraga County Memorial Hospital, L'Anse, Morgan Heights Sanatorium, St. Luke's Hospital and St. Mary's Hospital, Marquette; St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital, Menominee; Chipewaga County War Memorial Hospital, Sault Ste. Marie and Divine Infant Hospital, Wakefield.

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the United States, with 1,000 of them not eligible for the Joint Commission's accreditation because they contain less than 25 adult beds. Of the other 6,000 hospitals about 4,000 are accredited and they account for 85 per cent of all hospital admissions, 87 per cent of all hospital births and 61 per cent of all hospital days spent by patients in hospitals.

The Joint Commission is an agency established by the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association, and American Medical Association to survey and inspect hospitals. Accreditation means that a hospital has voluntarily submitted to a survey of its facilities and patient care. “It is a badge of recognition which the hospital can display to its community to prove that it conforms to high standards of patient care,” said Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, commission director.

Surveyors, all physicians, rate a hospital on such requirements as: safe physical plant free from fire hazards, careful supervision and review by the medical staff of patient care rendered in the hospital, study by the medical staff of all unusual or complicated cases; adequate medical records, ethical practices, investigation of all tissue removed in surgery, proper nursing care; proper administrative and medical staff organization.

Man Is Handicap In Space Shots

By AL SANDNER
ANN ARBOR (AP)—Astronomy Professor Dean B. McLaughlin is sort of a stay-at-home space scientist.
McLaughlin, whose feet are firmly planted on the grounds of the University of Michigan, believes it's silly to send up an expensive satellite to do a job a ground observatory could do as well or better.
"I don't mean in any way to belittle what can and must be done," he said, but added that in most exploratory satellites or space probes "all a human passenger could do would be to louse things up. The equipment (as in the Venus probe last year) can be operated by radio—often better than a human hand in space could do."

"And," he added, "you don't have to feed the radio controls." As an example of some of the problems that could arise in a manned space probe, he said, suppose a 150-pound astronaut is sent up in a 3,000-pound vehicle to photograph the moon through a telescope. Since the man's weight is five per cent of the total package, any move he made would cause a relatively large reaction. The motion caused by reaching for a pencil could change the telescopes' aim from the center of the moon to its edge, he added.
There still is a great deal to be learned through radio and optical telescopes, McLaughlin said.
"There is a tendency today to regard everything which was done 10 or more years ago as useless and old fashioned," he said. "Where would we be today if it weren't for the work men did thousands of years ago with just their eyes and the brains god gave them."

Balloons are extending the range of ground-based equipment, he said.
To get good photographs, it is necessary to escape the turbulence of the atmosphere, he said. Balloons reaching an altitude of 80,000 feet or so, escape most of the atmospheric distortion, he added.
Satellites and space probes are necessary, of course, McLaughlin said. The atmosphere blots much ultra violet and infra red light, and space probes must escape the atmosphere to record it.
McLaughlin's down-to-earth philosophy also objects to landing a man on the moon just to land a man on the moon. Astronauts should be sent there for a real purpose—such as studying its surface and composition or to erect a telescope.

Fish Meal To Maine
PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Bringing fish meal from South Africa to Maine might seem like carrying coals to Newcastle.
But it isn't so, says a spokesman for Sammel Lipman & Sons of Augusta, which recently imported 500 tons through the Port of Portland.
The Lipman firm uses the meal in manufacture of poultry feed. The quality needed wasn't available in Maine, a spokesman reported.
The meal was unloaded from the British freighter Claksworth at a pier just across the harbor from a plant that manufactures fish meal.

An "Old Rugged Cross" is a prominent part of the symbolism for Lent at the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Escanaba. The cross is made of the church's Christmas trees of last December. The limbs have been removed and the trunks lashed together in the form of a cross, a "tree of death." During the Christmas season the evergreen trees stood in the church as "trees of life," so they have become a dual symbol of the hope of eternal life for Christians. (Daily Press Photo)

Measure Wealth By The Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the best ways to measure a man's wealth in this world is by the treasure trove of his memories.
You're pretty well-to-do, nostalgically speaking, if you can remember when—
You sat on a curbstone at dusk, waiting for the lamplighter to come by, hoping he'd say "hello" to you.
Speeding Sunday bicyclists were a leading traffic hazard, and were gravely denounced by newspaper editorial writers as "scorchers" and "road burners."
Movies 10 Cents
Nobody took a bath except on Saturday night unless he was going to the doctor for a thorough medical examination.
The height of a city kid's ambition was to live in an apartment building that had an elevator in it.
It was a big thrill to go with your mother to a department store and ride on an escalator.
The other children called you "teacher's pet" if she gave you the coveted honor of taking the blackboard erasers outside during class and banging the chalk dust from them.
There was small need for teenage baby sitters as most families had an elder member—grandma, grandpa, or both—who could stay home and take care of the small fry.
A sack of popcorn and a movie ticket were the same price—ten cents.

Only the town miser kept his front door locked at night.

"Oh You Kid"
When you went to the grocery store, the clerk always ground the coffee for you by hand in a big red machine—and the fresh aroma was unforgettable.
If you tried to give the postman a tip at Christmas, he felt insulted.
The peak of male devilishness was to stand with a group of young fellows outside the corner drugstore and call out "Oh, you kid!" whenever a pretty girl passed by.
One of the landmarks of your life came the day you first learned how to whistle through your teeth loud and clear.
A girl who could bake and had learned to play "Love's Old Sweet Song" on the piano was regarded as ready for marriage.
The nation's most popular wonder drugs were epsom salts, mustard plasters and castor oil.
It was widely held that the advent of the five-day week would result in the moral ruin of the working class.

BIGGEST CACKLE
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A black and red hen has the loudest cackle in Lee Dean's barnyard. She lays the giant economy-size egg. Dean says two of the hen's eggs weighed a total of 13 ounces. A dozen eggs of normal size weigh only 24 ounces.

Beaver Trapping Not An Easy Job

By BOB VOGES
Associated Press Outdoor Writer
LANSING (AP)—Those who feel the world is changing too much and too fast can take comfort from one small item showing the continuity of Michigan history and tradition.
In another week or so, the beaver trappers will be out setting their traps.
The search for beaver—the pelts then were used mostly to provide beaver hats for London dandies—was one of the reasons the first explorers came to Michigan.
Most of Michigan's beaver now are used to manufacture fur coats for the ladies. Trapping is still a dirty, uncomfortable job.
The beaver and other seasons open March 20 in the Lower Peninsula with the first closing date March 31 and the last April 10, depending on the regions. The Upper Peninsula season opens March 30 with the first closing date April 11 and the last April 18.
The limit for any one trapper is eight beaver pelts or three other in a season. Some regions have a smaller limit.
During the 1940's, when the price of beaver soared to $65 for a prime pelt, some trappers made a good thing of it. The price this year is expected to be $16 to $20 for a prime pelt. A good otter pelt will bring $22 to $26.
Last year, there were 8,605 beaver and 625 otter taken during the season.
The restrictions on the areas and the number of animals allowed are a little more conservative this season. There are more closed areas as the emphasis is on protecting the beaver where their ponds and dams result in flooding to benefit waterfowl.

Tenth Robin Tells When It's Spring

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Business leaders are usually pictured as cool and well-adjusted, the real balance wheels of our civilization.

Actually, the industrial tycoon—and the military chieftain as well—is often more temperamental, neurotic and insecure in judgment than are many successful artists, writers and sculptors, who find in the discipline of their art a calming influence.

But the two classes in America most suspicious of the motives of others are probably movie stars and professional baseball players.

The first robin may be only a foolhardy adventurer. It's the 10th robin you see building a nest that really assures you spring is here.

Nothing takes away the self-confidence of a grown person more than losing a front tooth.

We have never met anybody over 40 who was satisfied with a new portrait photograph.

The simplest way to move to the rear of the bus is to follow a determined fat lady.

If you want to avoid a talkative barber, get your hair cut by an older one; the older he is, the more his feet probably hurt—and the more his feet hurt the less likely it is he'll want to give you his views on the state of the world.

A man who knows he is a snob usually makes a provocative and stimulating companion. It is those who are snobs and don't know it who bore us most.

No matter how worthless a fellow feels, it always helps his self-respect to get his shoes shined.

A man will spend his last dime having a good time, but women always keep a cash reserve somewhere in those portable trunks they carry.

To anyone with common sense it is more inspiring to watch a small girl chanting as she skips rope than it is to spend an hour looking at the "Mona Lisa."

A marriage is still intact if, when a husband goes carousing, the wife is certain it was some friend who led him astray.

Few things stir agnosticism in a fellow more than theft of his golf clubs from his parked car while he's attending Sunday church services.

No girl is really quite ready for marriage if she can't cook an omelet without getting eggshells in it.

More Projects Awaiting OK For Peninsula Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department asked Congress today to authorize military construction for the year beginning July 1 to cost $1,862,055,000.

Funds for the individual projects, if authorized, would be asked in a later appropriation bill.

In the following list the type of construction is identified by letter as follows—"A," operational facilities; "B," training facilities; "C," maintenance facilities; "D," research, and medical facilities; "G," administrative facilities; "H," troop housing; "I," community facilities; "J," utilities; "K," ground improvements; "L," real estates.

Michigan projects: $2,654,000 total.

Army: Detroit defense area, C, E, $654,000.

Air Force: Kincheloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie, A, C, H, I, $1,215,000; K. I. Sawyer Municipal Airport, Marquette, J, $238,000; Wurtsmith AFB, Oscoda, E, H, I, $547,000.

Catholics Go To Inkster School

DETROIT—A shared-time proposal which will allow parochial school students to attend classes in a public school in the suburban Cherry Hill (Inkster) school district next fall has been given full approval by the archdiocesan superintendent of schools.

Msgr. Vincent J. Horkan praised the action of the Cherry Hill District in taking students from St. Norbert Parish School. The shared-time plan will send 203 seventh and eighth grade students to the public school daily for half a day. Half will attend the public school in the morning and half in the afternoon, spending the rest of the day at St. Norbert School. They will study mathematics, science, physical education, shop, music and homemaking at the public school and language arts, social studies and religion at the church school.

"I know of no shared-time program in the country that offers more substantial aid to the parochial school," said Msgr. Horkan. "It is a tribute to the superintendent and board of education's sense of fair play that such an opportunity is being offered to our Catholics parents in this community."

C. P. Titus, superintendent of the Cherry Hill District, is a former Delta County school superintendent. Titus proposed the shared time idea to St. Norbert School, which otherwise faced the necessity of building a school addition to accommodate another 100 pupils expected next fall.

Cherry Hill, said Titus, will receive state aid for the half-day pupils under Michigan law on a pro-rated basis and the amount will cover the cost of three additional teachers who will have to be hired. The school was already overcrowded and plans had been made for double sessions before the shared-time plan was adopted.

Mother Mary Edmund, O. P., provincial superior of the Dominican Sisters of Adrian, saw no objection to the plan. "There's no difference in the teaching," she said "because our teachers prepare in the same colleges and universities as those who teach in public schools."

Ann Landers

Mom Spends Loot; Leaves Kids In Rags

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago Mom and Dad were divorced. Some kids get to choose the parent they want to live with, but nobody asked me. I'm 15, my brother is 16. Mom divorced Dad for another man who changed his mind about marrying her. Now she has another boy friend who is mostly out of work.

Dad gives Mom $550 a month which is supposed to be support money for my brother and me. She hasn't bought us one stitch of clothes since the divorce — only two pairs of shoes in two years. If I didn't earn some money sitting and if Dad and Grandma didn't send us Christmas and birthday money we'd be in rags. My brother is in worse shape than I am because he has grown a lot and nothing fits him.

We get $1 a week for milk money (we carry lunch) and that's it. Yesterday Mom bought her boy friend some new clothes and a second-hand car because he needs it for a job, she said.

We don't think she is being fair to us and would like your advice. — RAGGEDY ANN AND ANDY

Dear Ann and Andy: Your Dad should be told immediately. Your mother is involved in a sordid mess and he is the one who should straighten it out.

Dear Ann Landers: I suspect I am not the only physician who reads your column every day. I seldom disagree with you, but I did recently. Please reconsider your advice to "Horrid."

She wrote about a gossip nurse who had discussed her medical file with friends. You advised the patient to "Change doctors, and if the question is ever raised as to why, explain — leaving out all names, of course."

If the patient takes your advice, who suffers? First, the patient, because he risks less effective care which results from a loss in continuity of medical history. Second, the physician, because he loses a patient.

The real culprit — the gossip nurse — loses nothing.

I feel the nurse should be reported to the County Medical Society or the physician should be told directly. — FORT WORTH M. D.

Dear Doctor: You are right. I was wrong. I accept two hard swats with an old ether mask.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I and another couple (also married about 10 years) went to a movie last night. This movie was for adults only. There were six teenagers sitting in the row ahead of us. They looked about 16.

The movie was beautifully done but it was not for 16-year-old kids. What could have been a delightful evening for us was ruined by these kids giggling, punching each other and laughing in the wrong places.

Please tell me, Ann, why do teenagers laugh during the most tender and meaningful parts of a movie? I can't for the life of me figure it out. Our children will be teenagers in a few years and I would like to be able to understand this. Thanks for whatever help you can give. — EVANSTON

Dear Evanston: Laughter, particularly the giggly type, is the result of self-consciousness. When teenagers are embarrassed they often react with giggles. (P. S. Some adults do too.)

Confidential to Afraid of Gossips: So, if they talk what will they say? Probably, "How wonderful that two nice people got together." By all means accept his invitation and have a good time.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOUR VETERANS RETURN LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Four let-terms will be back for baseball at the University of Wyoming. They are first baseman Cliff Osborne, short-stop Dick Hawthorne, pitcher Dan Cadman and outfielder Vince Zimmer.

Coach Glenn (Bud) Daniel, who missed last season while on duty with the National Guard at Ft. Lewis, Wash., began his 13th campaign when practice began on Feb. 4.

Please tell me, Ann, why do teenagers laugh during the most tender and meaningful parts of a movie? I can't for the life of me figure it out. Our children will be teenagers in a few years and I would like to be able to understand this. Thanks for whatever help you can give. — EVANSTON

Cecil Rhode, veteran wildlife photographer and Alaskan sourdough will narrate the new Wally Taber Show films, "Alaska Angling" and "Alaska Game Trials," at William Oliver Auditorium at 8 p. m. March 20 under auspices of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club. Rhode, who made the films, is pictured with a northern pike.

Alaska Hunting And Fishing In New Taber Show

When Cecil Rhode brings his double-feature, all-color adventure film program to William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p. m., many a trigger finger will twitch at Alaskan hunting, according to Ray Shaw, president of the sponsoring Delta County Sportsmen's Club.

"Rhode has resided on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula for the past 30 years," said Shaw. "And the fishing he documents in this film is the finest he has ever experienced. Rainbow trout, king and silver salmon, northern pike, Dolly Varden and grayling keep the action lively."

Fishing is only part of the two-and-one-half-hour program, says Shaw. A second film depicts Alaska's wildlife and native life, hunting and scenic wonders.

"With packboard on his back and rifle in hand, Rhode roams the vastness of Alaska seeking out the unusual for his camera to record," Shaw said. "His adventures on little known Nunivak Island with America's nearly extinct musk ox and the resident Eskimos is a triumph in perseverance."

Giant brown bear, moose, caribou, white-mountain sheep and many Alaska's lesser animals play lead roles in Rhode's "Alaskan Game Trails."

"This is another Wally Taber Safari Show," said Shaw "and like others of the series previously brought to Escanaba, it is personally narrated by the sportsman-photographer who made the films. Those interested in our 49th state will have opportunity to meet Rhode in the auditorium an hour ahead of show time."

Advance tickets at reduced rates now are available from club members. On show night tickets go on sale at the box office at 7. Showtime at 8 p. m.

State Briefs

YPAIANTI (AP) — Barbara Jane Quisenberry, 29, of Inkster was injured fatally Wednesday in the collision of her car and a semi-trailer truck on the Willow Run Expressway at Hannan Road. Police said Miss Quisenberry's car pulled out of Hannan in front of the truck driven by Donald Thompson, 25, of Bluffton, Ohio.

EATON RAPIDS (AP)—Winston R. Cheal, 34, who has been on the sports staff of the Lansing State Journal, will become publisher of the Eaton Rapids Journal Monday. Sale of the paper was announced Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Carstens.

LANSING (AP)—The construction season for improvement of Michigan airports is getting underway, reports the State Aeronautics Department. Eight contracts worth more than $1.2 million are scheduled to be awarded this month. During the 1963 construction season, bids will be received on 43 contracts with a value of $8.41 million.

BOYNE FALLS (AP)—The annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials will be held at Boyne Falls June 18-21. The association held its annual Winter meeting at Detroit in 1960. The last time the group held a Summer meeting in Michigan was the 1953 meeting at Mackinac Island.

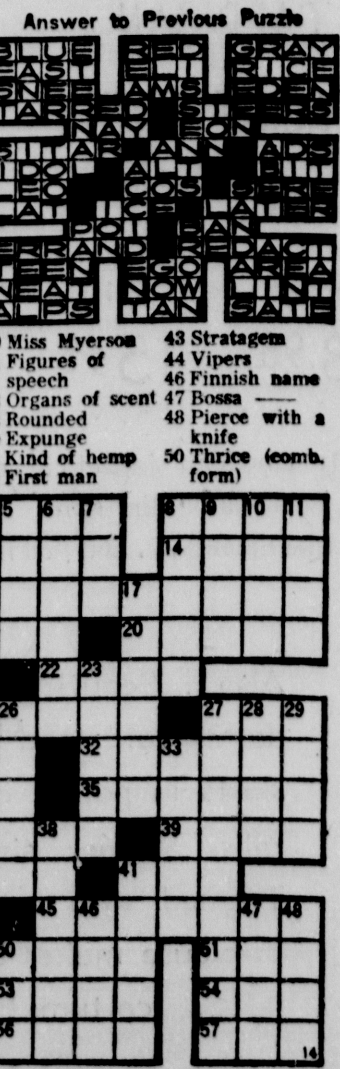

LANSING (AP)—State tax collections on motor vehicles currently are running $1.5 million ahead of last year and use tax collections are $78,194 above the same period of 1962, the secretary of state's office reports. Sales tax collections on cars are $7.7 million and use tax collections $926,352 for the first seven weeks of the year, the office said.

Washington PTA Members Hold Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Washington PTA was held Tuesday evening, preceded by room visitations.

William Finlan, English and Journalism teacher in the Junior and Senior High Schools discussed the advantages to be obtained through Accelerated Reading exercises.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers to serve the PTA for 1963-64: Mrs. Fred Van Effen, president; Mrs. Chet Marrier, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Olive Petersen, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Leo Ni-quette, secretary and Joseph Le-Duc, treasurer. Council delegates will be Mrs. Milton Monson and Mrs. Edwih Skippar.

Plans were announced for the bazaar which opened today and continues through Saturday, and the bake sale, which will be held Saturday only, as a benefit for the Gold Bond stamp project. Both are at 1312 Ludington St. and bazaar articles are being sold or traded. Anyone wishing to donate articles may take them to the place of sale. Further details may be obtained by calling ST6-2029 or ST6-0173.

Edward Thompson's fifth grade was awarded room count.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table, using the St. Patrick Day theme. Hostesses were Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Lyle Smith and Mrs. Chet Marrier of Joseph LeDuc's sixth grade.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Kibby Treiber returned last night from a seven-week vacation in Port Charlotte, Fla. While there they visited with former Escanabans, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holderman, Mr. and Mrs. Derlin Remington, Victor Thielander and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffmann.

If you come across a news tip, don't hesitate to telephone ST 6-4118, Radio WLST.

Women's Activities

Centennial Program Topic For Woman's Club

Escanaba's Centennial will be the topic of the program meeting of Escanaba Woman's Club Wednesday, March 20, at 2 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Speaker of the afternoon will be Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, who will be introduced by Miss Frances C. Rovinsky, program chairman. His subject will be "Escanaba Centennial."

Preceding his talk, a skit, "First Attempts to Establish a Public School in the Village of Escanaba" will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Robert S. Ham.

Mrs. Merritt Kasson is chairman of hostesses. Her committee is Mesdames H. H. Bathke, P. S. Clark, Guy Knutson, M. D. Per-ring, Richard C. Lahay, Joseph Vogt and A. F. Wosnuk.

Third Order Day Of Recollection At St. Joseph's

St. Francis Fraternity of the Third Order of St. Francis will hold its annual Day of Recollection Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., at St. Joseph's Church. Father Malcolm Maloney, OFM Cap., will be the speaker.

The first conference will be held in the church at 1:30, followed by Tertiary Office and Way of the Cross at 2 p. m. Novice instruction will take place in the parish hall during this time.

The regular monthly conference will begin at 2:30 in the church. Holy Communion will be distributed immediately following the Prayer for Priests. Intermission with refreshments will be held in the church hall at 3:15.

Franciscan Crown rosary will begin at 3:45 in the church followed by the final conference and Benediction at 4.

Central Delta Girl Scouts Have Birthday Party

The Girl Scouts of Central Delta and their parents were entertained at their Scout Birthday party Tuesday evening in St. Thomas Parish Hall.

Troop 69, Mrs. Clayton Tanguay leader, conducted the Flag ceremony. Troop 18 led the Penny March. The penny container was a cleverly constructed covered wagon. This troop later entertained with a hobo campfire song and delightful conversation.

Mrs. Frank Sheffer is leader. Mrs. Bill Gerue assistant.

Mrs. Benoit's troop 32 from Webster School displayed work in arts and crafts and explained activities performed for earning badges. Girls of troop 70, Mrs. Fraddo leader, gave a short health skit defining a "square meal". The program closed with a candle ceremony by Troop 69. Mrs. Louis Weiland assisted in making an attractive centerpiece for the serving table. Dolls dressed as Brownie and an Intermediate Scouts held streamers leading to a cleverly arranged 51st birthday decoration.

Why keep Goading Girls Into Marriage?

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Why haven't I married?" Robert Mirvish repeats the question and smiles. The handsome, square-jawed sailor with a brush haircut answers it at least once a day.

"Too self-sufficient, self-centered maybe. Everybody has to come to terms with himself and I know myself couldn't make marriage work."

Even so, some of his best friends are women, and it hurts him more perhaps than it does them that the single ones are subjected to the same blunt, personal injury.

Men in harness ask the question of successful bachelors such as Mirvish (the author of 11 books) in tones that suggest grudging envy. Men pose the question to single girls out of curiosity, he says.

Why Not?

But women reproach other women with "Why haven't you married?" as if their spinsterhoods were willful derelictions which threaten their own martial hopes or security.

"It's never the girl's father, always the mother who goads and badgers until she marries," points out the writing merchant seaman. "Eventually she succumbs to the incessant pressure until she rejects whatever ideas of personal independence or identity she might have enjoyed, and accepts another woman's eagerness for a family life as her own."

That's Why

At 13, when most boys recognize the presence of an opposite sex, Mirvish expounded for the first time on the subject in a book aptly titled, "Because of Women." It was never published.

"I looked back on it years later and it was really ridiculous," laughs Mirvish. Yet his sparkling commentary on all that he has learned about women since has made the 41-year-old celibate a favorite target on feminine TV panel shows.

Born in Washington, D. C., Mirvish quit high school and went to work in steel mills until World War II began. Then he took his bride, the sea. "The first day I stepped aboard a ship I said, 'Man, I've found a home.'"

That he could write without distractions was an advantage of his new home which swelled his income and enhanced his reputation. Although Mirvish's first try at books was a failure, he never gave up the study of that other sex.

Lady Roomer

One book, published in England and soon to be reprinted here, deals with women who live in single rooms. "One type is young, and just passing through," says Mirvish. "But there is another kind whom life passes by until her room becomes her world."

Rooming houses remind him of landladies and another inequity between single men and women. "Why is it that if a man sneaks a woman up to his room he is a gay old fox, and if a woman does she's no good?" Again it's one woman condemning another.

"And do you ever notice," he says with cheerful willingness to clinch his argument, "how one woman complains about working for a woman boss?"

Although Mirvish has yet to see a staff Merchant Marine captain in his 11 million miles at sea, he nevertheless asserts he would just as happily work for one.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Eben Junction announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Carol, to Donald Preaseau, son of Mrs. Lawrence Preaseau of Spalding. A May wedding is planned.

Two other questions which author Mirvish is accosted with regularly, however, are peculiarly reserved for single men.

Is he jealous when one of his girls in one of his ports gives up and marries someone else. Not Mirvish. "Getting married doesn't mean the girl's dead. We remain friends." But he is careful to widen the attachment to include the new husband.

Doesn't he worry about a lonely life when he has aged? "I'll just go to Snug Harbor," he says. "and sit out front and whistle boats for little bottles."

He sounds very much like another non-marrying, whittling merchant marine in Mirvish's most recent book, "The Last Captain."

Mrs. Robert Eric Anderson, bride in a March 9 ceremony at St. Michael's Church, Marquette, is the former Patricia Ann Goldsworthy. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenneth Goldsworthy of Marquette and Mr. and Mrs. Manley P. Anderson of Escanaba.

Bargaining Works For Labor Peace

By STERLING F. GREEN
AP Economic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—For all its failures, free collective bargaining keeps the labor peace a little better than 99 per cent of the time.

That seldom-mentioned fact is why the national emergency clauses of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act have never been amended despite alarms over "the breakdown of collective bargaining."

The outcry was revived in the new Congress by the 38-day shutdown of all East and Gulf Coast ports, the newspaper blackouts in New York and Cleveland, and the still-looming threat to Polaris and Minuteman missile production.

Yet even those officials who must cope with the costly breakdowns of bargaining contend that labor-management relations are working about as well as anything ever works in a democracy.

Last Time Reduced

They note that:

—So far in the 1960s less than one-seventh of 1 per cent of all working time has been lost in strikes.

—The number of workers involved in big or little stoppages in 1962, about 1.25 million, was the smallest in any postwar year.

The record is the more noteworthy because, in recent years, cost-burdened managements have begun to make demands instead of just receiving them. And some major unions, hit by automation and chronic joblessness, have been fighting less for pay boosts than for the very right to work.

President Kennedy has asserted the "public interest" in private wage and price decisions. An example was his strong criticism Feb. 22 of New York newspaper strike leaders. The "third man"—sometimes from government, often a neutral private citizen—has ever more frequently taken a chair at the bargaining table.

The government's influence—usually exerted indirectly and cautiously by Kennedy, but perhaps more insistently than ever before in peacetime—has been felt in three major ways.

First, by the creation in 1961 of the President's Labor-Management Advisory Committee. Its 21 members from industry, labor and the public have met regularly, frequently and quietly to talk out the crucial issues.

Employees Protected

Surprisingly, they have agreed on many points. The committee's policy stand on automation has become, in effect, the national policy. It now shows up in the report of every fact-finding panel and emergency board.

The policy recognizes the right of management to fire workers displaced by machines; but it imposes on management the responsibility to cushion the dismissals by such devices as gradual reductions in force, retraining, job placement and adequate severance pay.

The second Kennedy innovation was the posting, in January 1962, of voluntary wage-price guidelines. The aim was to hold wage boosts within the general range of average postwar gains in industrial productivity, and thus avoid forcing prices up.

Officials claim some success. They believe settlements in 1962 wound up mostly in the target area, with raises of around 3 per cent.

Big Steel Stopped

The third Kennedy approach, now in process of alteration, took the form of frequent but informal intervention—preferably in early stages—in individual big disputes.

The celebrated steel price crisis of last spring was the direct result of Kennedy's effort to stage-manage a peaceable, noninflationary settlement. He brought it off, but only at cost of the greatest domestic crisis of his presidency to date.

Well in advance of negotiations, Kennedy urged the Steelworkers to accept a noninflationary new contract. They did, taking fringe betterments but no pay increase.

The President called on leading steel companies by letter to hold the price line; but, when the union contracts were signed, the big firms raised prices.

Mobilizing the economic and political power of the government, Kennedy forced "Big Steel's" retreat. But the furor earned him an "antibusiness" label he has been trying to live down ever since, and may have helped precipitate the "Black Monday" collapse of the stock market.

His secretary of labor then, now Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, continued to dash into every four-alarm fire on the industrial front. Goldberg managed to put most of them out by force of persuasion, personality and his bagful of mediation gimmicks.

Keeping Pace

Disputants began to rely on the government to solve their problems. And spectacular gimmicks—as the new labor secretary, W. Willard Wirtz, has noted—lose effect when they become commonplace.

"Proof that Washington's nurse-maiding isn't needed is claimed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers and a member of the President's committee.

Citing noteworthy innovations in recent steel contracts, he told The Associated Press:

"Collective bargaining kept pace with the times and still remained free in contracts negotiated with the basic steel, aluminum and can industries and, most recently, Kaiser Steel Corp.

"The collective bargaining process is being improved—by inventiveness, rather than by mere tinkering with the machinery."

To Wirtz and many others it seems clear that while the government can and will—in Goldberg's words—"assert unhesitatingly and at all times the national interest in labor-management disputes," the decision whether collective bargaining will remain free, depends on the wisdom and inventiveness of union leaders and industry managers.

House Bill Boosts Retirement Pay Of Top Generals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six of the nation's ranking retired military officers would get a healthy increase in their retirement pay under a measure recommended Tuesday by a House Armed Services subcommittee as part of a proposed $1.5-billion military pay increase.

Under the bill, the five-starred officers, Gen Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Omar Bradley and Adm. Chester Nimitz would get a raise from $20,543.36 a year to $24,186.56. Gen. Carl Spaatz, Adm. Raymond Spruance and Gen. A.A. Vandegrift, would be raised from $20,143.36 to $21,386.56.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower draws a $25,000 annual presidential pension but no military retirement pay. As a retired five-star general, however, he is entitled to all other benefits provided for retired officers.

DRILLING COSTS

It costs more than $62,000 to drill an average oil or gas well which reaches about 4,000 feet into the earth. Costs go higher in less accessible areas and a typical offshore well, for instance, may cost as much as $400,000.

Economists contend that few motorists are rolling their own.

Homecoming For U-M Dentists Set For April 3

Dr. Roger Beauchamp, president of the Delta County Dental Society, announces that the University of Michigan School of Dentistry has set April 3 as the date for its annual homecoming program at Ann Arbor.

The affair usually brings some 300 practicing dentists back to the campus for a one-day program of scientific lectures, alumni activities and "open house" tours of the Dental School.

Prof. Philip Jay will preside at the morning session in the Rackham Lecture Hall where the group will hear talks by faculty Doctors Herbert D. Millard, William E. Brown Jr., and Robert G. Craig.

University President Harlan Hatcher, Alumni Association Secretary Robert O. Morgan and Dr. Glenn R. Brooks, chairman of the Board of Governors of the School of Dentistry Alumni Society, will address the luncheon meeting in the Michigan Union.

Mrs. William R. Mann and Mrs. Jay Forsythe will present a

Robber Sentenced

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 15-year prison term has been ordered for Robert Scott Jr., 51, of Onaway, who admits the $20,700 holdup Feb. 7 at the Alden State Bank. He was sentenced Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Raymond Starr on a Feb. 15 plea of guilty to bank robbery.

Karen LaRue And Mr. Musselman Wed In Germfask

GERMFASK — Karen LaRue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip LaRue of Detroit became the bride of Michael Musselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musselman of Germfask, at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Howard Brower at 2 p.m. Saturday at Lakefield Baptist Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Watson of Germfask.

The bride wore a ballerina length white lace over taffeta dress with bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a silver crown with rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

The matron of honor wore a pastel pink dotted street length dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a white and black figured dress and a white carnation corsage and the bride's mother chose a blue

Fox Is Unusual Relief Pitcher; No Rubber Arm

By JERRY GREEN
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Most relief pitchers have three precious possessions — control, a rubber arm that limbers up fast and a trick pitch.

Terry Fox of the Tigers, one of the newer members of the exclusive bullpen elite, is different. Of the three, he has only control.

He hasn't a rubber arm, one strong enough to let him pitch every day like the other top relievers. Fox's arm has been sore throughout his two seasons in the big leagues so he needs frequent rest.

And unlike Hoyt Wilhelm and Stu Miller, he doesn't have a knuckle ball to bail him out of trouble. Nor a fork ball like Roy Face or a screwball like Luis Arroyo. Fox doesn't even want a new pitch, the type Dick Radatz plans to add this spring.

"I've got enough pitches to worry about right now," said Fox, probably Detroit's best fireman since the 1940s and Al Benton.

Fox has just the usual assortment of stuff — fastball, curve, changeup — and that's all. He doesn't even try sliders with his tender elbow that hasn't bothered him at all this spring.

"I found sliders hurt my arm," said Fox. "The other relief pitchers seem to rely on one different pitch they can work on a lot. I just can't."

Fox has compiled a remarkable record—all with an aching elbow—in his two seasons with Detroit. In the pennant challenge of 1961, he was 5-2 with a 1.42 earned run average. He allowed only nine earned runs and 16 walks in 39 games.

Last year Fox was just as good. He posted a 3-1 record and yielded 11 earned runs and 16 walks in 44 games.

The catch is: Fox's arm didn't let him work very many innings either season.

Sidelined three times because of his elbow in 1961, Fox worked only 57 innings in his 39 games. Last year his arm was so sore the Tigers farmed him to Denver to pitch himself into shape at the start of the season. He came back and pitched only 58 innings although he appeared in 44 games.

Fox is a short reliever — he comes in to stop rallies in the eighth or ninth innings.

LITTLE BITTY BABY
CHATTANOOGA (AP) — Lesia June Oliver, one of the smallest babies ever to survive, isn't a very big 2 year old at 25 pounds—but she's 24 pounds bigger than she was once.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oliver of Jasper, Tenn., she weighed 1 pound, 14 ounces when born here in 1960—and her weight dropped once to 15½ ounces.

Seminar Planned On Constitution

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan will present an illustrated seminar on the proposed Michigan constitution at 8 p. m. March 29 in Manistique High School, under sponsorship of the Jaycees. A similar program will be presented that afternoon for students.

There is no admission charge for the illustrated program whose purpose will be to acquaint area citizens with provisions of the proposed Constitution, which they approve or reject in state voting April 1.

The Citizens Research Council, John Pat Miller, Jaycee president, has been intimately involved with the question of constitutional revision and has worked closely with delegates and their committees. The Council is a private, non-political organization engaged in research in public affairs.

The purpose of the meeting is informational and factual, and Miller expressly noted it is not intended "to tell anybody how to vote." All interested citizens are invited. Frequent question and answer periods will be held during the seminar, which will take about 1½ hours.

Five areas will be covered: legislative apportionment, highlights of provisions for the three branches of government, finance and taxation, local government and the educational system, and new practices and traditions retained.

Social

Extension Club

At the meeting of the Handy Hands home extension club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Reuben Warshawsky plans and projects were discussed for the coming year. Mrs. Dean Deloria, vice chairman, will represent the group at a meeting in Marquette today and Friday. Reports were given on the Art Exhibit which was held in Augustana Hall March 8. A social hour followed the meeting. Two new members, Mrs. Luelia Gardner and Mrs. Vera Martin were accepted. Lunch was served from a table decorated in the St. Patrick's Day motif. Hostesses were Mrs. Marvin Mercier and Mrs. Margarite Hewitt.

School Liberalizes Employee Benefits

The Manistique Board of Education Tuesday night met with librarians and custodians, following an earlier series of teacher conferences, and accepted a written statement of policies. These incorporate liberalization of fringe benefits for employees and other improvements approved after the conferences.

The policies become effective July 1 and spell out many which formerly were word-of-mouth or scattered in minutes of various board meetings. Copies will be given each employee.

Provision of conference leave, use of sick leave time for illnesses in the family, as well as that of the individual, and use of one day sick leave for personal business are included in the liberalization. Teachers will receive three additional days sick leave.

Under the policies, which include salary schedules for all employees, the average daily pay rate is computed for each classification, and this figure will be used in determining sick leave pay, etc.

General talks on the policies began several weeks ago and the present statement was drafted by Mrs. D. H. Waters, new board member, following a review of those used by other boards in Michigan.

On a unanimous vote of the board Tuesday night, the work of Mrs. Waters in the study and compilation was commended, at the suggestion of board president, Robert Orr.

The bid of Tribune Publishing Co., to provide 200 copies of the 12-page statement at $108.80 was accepted. Copies will be available in four weeks.

In other action the board accepted the low bid of Denny Agency, with Citizens Mutual to provide school liability insurance at cost of $372. Two other firms bid. The Denny bid, one of two submitted by him, utilizes services of a special insurance rate drafted several years ago for schools. Also accepted was the low bid of C-L Hardware to provide various

WCOF Officers Are Elected

Mrs. Jack Phillips was elected chief ranger at the meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters Tuesday evening in St. Francis de Sales parish hall.

Other officers are Mrs. Donald Hoholik, vice chief ranger; Mrs. Conrad Jahn, recording secretary; Mrs. George Tiglas, financial secretary; Mrs. George Mathews, treasurer; Mrs. Geraldine Beaudre, junior director, and Mesdames Harold McNamara, Ellsworth Davenport and William Potvin, trustees. Appointive officers will be named later.

Installation will take place April 23, preceded by a 6:30 p. m. potluck dinner. The next meeting will be April 9.

Mrs. Jean Gorchman, of Rapid River, who has 5½ years college training in sociology and 11 years experience in Delta County has been engaged as director of the Schoolcraft County Department of Social Welfare.

Park Property Road Change To Be Asked

The Schoolcraft Road Commission, at its meeting Tuesday night, decided it would register no objection to a petition of the state for changes in a road in the former Sportsmen's Club subdivision, serving a 16-lot area purchased north of Indian Lake State Park.

Hearing on the state petition on the 66-foot right of way extending about 1900 feet and a 40-foot walkway to the lake is scheduled at 10 a. m., May 15 in the courthouse here.

The area is part of government lots one and two in Section 7, T42, R16 West in Thompson Township. The right of way serves and area brushed and cleared this winter by prison inmates for expansion of Indian Lake State Park. The development work will be let on contract. Purchase of the property from William Crowe was made last summer.

The road commission Tuesday night noted the roadway is not dedicated for public usage and it would have no objection to the changes. The roadway is too high and otherwise not suitable for the park plan.

Charles LaHaie of Cheboygan met with Road Commission Tuesday night on his plans for development of a plat on Lake Michigan in Doyle Township.

Adolescent Topic For Parents Meet

Robert Drew, consultant for the Michigan department of mental health will present a program on guiding the adolescent at an adult education meeting at 7:30 p. m. today (Thursday) in Manistique High School. A film will be included.

Drop-Out Rate Lower At MHS; Study Underway

While Manistique High School has a drop-out rate lower than the state and national average, a study is underway of records of the past five years to determine reasons why youngsters leave school before graduation.

Principal Marvin Frederickson reported Tuesday to the Board of Education he is making an intensive study of records of the past five years, and that the study also will include significant figures over a longer period.

Preliminary figures show that the 1959-60 graduating class began with 160 freshmen and had a 29 per cent dropout by graduation time. The 1959-60 class began with 161 and had a 24 per cent dropout while the 1960-61 class began with 157 and had an 18 per cent drop-out. This drop-out rate was reduced even further with the 1961-62 class which began with 135 and had only 13½ per cent drop-out. The 1962-63 class had 137 starts as freshmen and will have a 16 per cent drop-out rate.

The trend seems to be fewer drop-outs, he stated. Improvement of the home economics and industrial arts departments have been significant factors, it was indicated.

National the drop-out rate is 33.3 per cent and in Michigan it is 21 per cent. The public and cannot afford to ignore the problem of drop-outs, it was added.

Ketcik To Attend JCC National Board Meeting

Richard Ketcik, a national Jaycee director, will attend the annual board of directors meeting of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce March 21-23 at Tulsa, Okla.

The 3-day meeting of the 260-member board will consider proposed national programs and projects for adoption and availability to the 4,000 member chapters. Tulsa is the home of the Jaycee headquarters building and the White House, home of the president during his year in office.

Ketcik will serve on the international relations planning group which reviews the proposals and plan of action for the coming Jaycee year and makes recommendations to the board.

Decisions are subject to the vote of the general membership at the Jaycees' 43rd annual convention in Louisville, Ky., June 25-27.

Six teams go this weekend and meet at 10 a. m., Saturday at the Elks Club to board a charter bus. Another team goes the following weekend and the eighth one in April.

Constitution Is Gain, Says Follo

Charles Follo, Delta County delegate to the constitutional convention, told the Manistique Teachers Club last night that the new constitution to be voted April 1, while it does not go as far as he'd like to see it go in some articles, is a much better constitution than the one under which the state is now operating.

Follo said he likes the four year terms for governor and senators, the consolidation of 126 bureaus and agencies into 20 departments, the new bipartisan legislative council to revise laws, the intermediate court of appeals under the supreme court, (but not election of the justices from districts), the provisions for education including appointment of the superintendent of public instruction, enlargement of the state board of education and giving it supervision over growth of colleges and universities.

Follo said he was disappointed by retention of fund earmarking, that finance and taxation reform doesn't go far enough and forbids legislation to create a graduated income tax to relieve state taxes that now bear heaviest on those least able to pay. The new document doesn't go far enough, said Follo, in giving the governor appointive powers and he doesn't like its call for partisan con-con.

Eleanore Nelson Winner Of Science Stipend In Math

Eleanore G. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Nelson, 236 West Ave., has been awarded a stipend by the National Science Foundation to attend a 6-week summer mathematics institute at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

The stipend provides free tuition and fees at the University plus a cash award for $450 and an additional $80 travel expense. She also will receive $300 from the Sturgeon Bay, Wis., school system where she is employed as a high school mathematics teacher.

The courses selected by her for study this summer are vectors and geometry, elementary functions in analysis, and a seminar on the new mathematics curriculum.

Under a previous National Science grant in 1960, she attended the University of Detroit and also studied mathematics.

April 1 Election Issue

Supreme Court
Change Proposed

By League of Women Voters

"How should judges be chosen?" is an important question. The system provided in the old constitution has been criticized for failing to keep judges independent of politics and for confusing the elective and appointive systems.

Our system now is elective in theory, but since the governor fills all vacancies by appointment (no advice and consent is required), much of our system is in fact appointive.

Two-thirds of Wayne County circuit judges, half of the other circuit judges, and five of the eight supreme court justices first got their present positions by appointment of the governor. Once appointed, judges run with "incumbent" labels and are almost invariably elected to the next term. The Constitutional Convention decided on a completely elective system; the governor's power to fill judicial vacancies is eliminated. As at present judges will be selected in nonpartisan elections. The legislature will continue to determine how supreme court candidates are nominated; other judicial candidates will continue to be nominated at nonpartisan primaries.

Vacancies are to be filled by election as soon as possible under the new constitution to be voted April 1. In the meantime, if necessary, the supreme court may fill vacancies by the temporary appointment of retired judges who would be ineligible for election to the positions. The label "incumbent" would be used only for judges who had been elected to their present positions.

Another new provision is that all judges of courts of record (in effect, probate courts and up) may become candidates for reelection merely by filing declarations of intent to run. Incumbent justices of the supreme court, this means, would not have to return to the political party convention for renomination as necessary under present law; they can therefore be independent of partisan politics.

Incumbent judges of the new court of appeals, the circuit court, and the probate court, would not have to take time from their duties nor depend upon lawyers and others for support, as they would not have to circulate petitions for renomination.

The independence of the judiciary was further safeguarded in a section which states that a judge of a court of record may not seek any elective office, other than a judicial office, during his term on the bench and for one year afterward. This is a protection for the people, since it prohibits a judge from using his position for political advancement. The old constitution applied this to circuit judges only; the new applies it to all judges.

Another new provision is a reflection of the concern for the rights of all citizens which is shown in the new constitution. This requires that there shall be direct court review of all final decisions and rulings of administrative agencies affecting private rights. Due to their technical nature, findings of fact in workmen's compensation proceedings and decisions of the state tax commission are exempt. The tremendous growth of administrative agencies and of their power to make legal decisions requires this type of protection of the citizen.

In Memoriam

Niemi

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Otto Niemi, who passed away three years ago today, March 14, 1960.

We seem to see in the soft dim light, A face we loved the best, And think of her when the sun's last ray Goes down in the far off west. We miss you no less as the time passes on Than we did on the day of your going. For absence can never close the door of our hearts And the lamp of our love is still glowing. Your heart was the truest in all the wide world; Your love the best to recall; For no one on earth could take your place. You are still the dearest of all.

Nahma Wins, Rock Loses In Regional Action

Pat Groleau Continues Fabulous Point Effort

ST. IGNACE—Pat Groleau raised a few eyebrows here again Friday night.

The 6-foot, 5-inch Nahma junior led his Arrows to a 73-64 Class D regional tournament triumph over downstate Ellsworth with another of his fabulous scoring performances.

Groleau, who makes the art of scoring baskets seem simple, stuffed 39 points through the nets in a brilliant individual effort.

In addition to connecting on almost 50 per cent (15 of 32) of his field goals and 9 of 13 from the free throw line, Groleau swept 19 rebounds off the backboards and set up his mates with some breath-taking scoring assists.

Coach Owen Peterson's Central League champs, sparing their 18th victory in 21 starts, dominated the action in the first half of the contest and fought off a dogged Ellsworth comeback attempt in the second.

Dick Feathers and Don Johnson provided Groleau with superb assistance in the scoring department, splitting 24 points between them.

Groleau's mates took a cue from his deadly shooting and hit 43 per cent from the field as a team, clicking on 29 of 67 shots. They converted 15 of their 22 opportunities from the charity line.

Free Throw Edge
Nahma needed all of Groleau's rebounding ability as Ellsworth battled furiously on the boards. The downstateers finished strong to grab a 41 to 33 edge in that department.

The Arrows gained their margin of victory from the free throw line as both teams scored 29 field goals. Ellsworth failed to make a single 1-and-1 and was able to count only six gift attempts out of 13. From the field, Ellsworth took 87 shots and made 29 of them.

Groleau gave an indication of things to come by whipping 13 points through the hoop in the first period as Nahma moved to a 20-17 lead.

With their big gun firing in 10 in the second, the Arrows padded their margin to 38-28 at the intermission. The second half was an even struggle with Ellsworth outscoring Nahma by one point in the fourth quarter.

Groleau closed out his bucket barrage with 11 points in the third period and five in the fourth to boost his season total to 688 points in 21 starts for an average of 32.75 per game.

Face Brimley Friday
Ellsworth was paced by swift forward Bernie Deuries who scored 22 points, followed by guard Steve Elzina with 18 and McGuire ready to quit post.

Detroit (AP) — Dick McGuire, tired of being second guessed, is considering quitting as coach of the Detroit Pistons after the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"Nothing's definite yet," McGuire said Wednesday, "but I've talked it over with my wife and kids. After all, it's a long year and you keep getting second guessed. The only time you don't is when you win."

Detroit was 33-45 before its game Wednesday night.

McGuire, a former star for St. John's of Brooklyn before entering the NBA as a player, said he'd like to go into college coaching.

"I've been offered a couple of college jobs back East," he said. "I'd like college coaching and the idea of developing kids. Here in the NBA the players already are developed."

McGuire, rumored out as Detroit's coach much of this season, and Fred Zollner, Pistons owner, haven't been in complete harmony in the past year.

Ogden Skier Wins Honors

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — Dale Miller of Ogden, Utah, and Cathy Nagel of Skykomish, Wash., won the boys' and girls' downhill titles Wednesday in the National Junior Ski Championships.

Miller, representing the Inter-Mountain Ski Association, led male competitors down the Snow King Mountain course with a clocking of 1 minute 16 seconds. Miss Nagel won the girls' event in 1:05.8.

The downhill race featured the second day's competition at the ski championships, which continue through the weekend. Today's event was the 10-kilometer cross country at nearby Trail Creek Ranch.

In the boys' downhill, Lenny Ligon, formerly of Traverse City, Mich., placed fourth in a field of 72. Gregg Schwartz of Brimley, Mich., tied for 16th.

Other Michigan finishers were Dave Merrill of Traverse City, 45th; Jim Murner of Traverse City, 55th; Bill Rausch of Cheboygan, 59th, and Jerry Kammerer of Traverse City, 61st.

In the girls' downhill, Linnell Hayes of Gaylord, Mich., finished 18th in a field of 38.

Oldtime Boxer Dies At Age 80

The Hermansville Redskins, who have never had a losing season in 10 years under Coach Don Hill, set five all-time school records this year. Their 103 points against Pembine was a new single game high, their 43 field goals in that game was the most ever scored in a single contest, their 74.6 average per game was tops as was their 1,567 season total and they scored 641 field goals for another season record.

Hermansville carries some impressive credentials into its Friday game against White Pine in the Class D regional at Northern. The Redskins have four players averaging in double scoring figures, headed by sophomore Ron Povol with 18 per game. Joe Arnold has a 13.9 average, Bob Callaro 12.6 and Bob Smith 11.5. The fifth starter, Floyd Schoen, is averaging 7.1.

Roman Gill, Rock basketball coach, is a great prophet. Here's what he had to say prior to the start of the current season last November: "The boys show a lot of spirit and drive and willingness to learn, which could be a carry-over from their fine 5-1 record in football. We lack experience, height and shooting ability at the present time. Without a potential starter near 6-feet, we will have to develop superior shooters and must out-hustle our opponents. It should be an interesting season with many ups and downs." Rock won eight, lost 10 in the regular season, finished fourth in the Central League and then stormed to the district Class D championship by beating Bark River, Trenary and Eben before bowing to Pellston in the regionals last night.

The Sault Ste. Marie Chippewas recently captured the United States juvenile hockey championship, blasting Toledo 10-0 in the title game after disposing of Eagle River, 8-2, and Wilmette, Ill., 9-4, in earlier national tournament games. So qualified for the nationals by winning Upper Peninsula and state crowns last month.

Georgiana Brusorio of Hancock rolled into first place in the singles division of the Upper Peninsula Women's Bowling tournament at Laurium with a 581 series. Mission Orange of Portage Lake is the team leader with a 2,718 score, Sandie Hauswirth and Laura Rinkinen of Ontonagon are pacing the doubles with 1,139 and Regina Manty of South Range heads the all events with 1,647.

Red Lucas, San Francisco Giant baseball scout who conducts an annual trout camp here, recently signed Don Chitko of Armstrong Creek to a professional baseball contract. Chitko, an outstanding athlete at Goodman High School, will report to Salem, Va., of the Rookie League this spring. He's a 19 year old, 6-foot, 180 pound outfielder-first baseman.

Stan Albeck, highly successful Northern Michigan University cage coach, will be the speaker at the 19th annual Knights of Columbus basketball dinner to be held in Iron Mountain March 31. Honored will be players and coaches of teams from Felch, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Channing, Norway, Vulcan, Niagara and Florence. Albeck, former all-time great at Bradley, has guided Northern quints to 83 victories against 28 defeats since 1957.

The first of the all-conference basketball selections involving Upper Peninsula players were announced this week. Bill Fenlon, St. Ignace junior, was named to the Huron-Straits Conference first team. Dave Everson, captain of the Menominee Maroons, was named to the Big Rivers second team.

Escanaba bowlers took the lead in the singles, doubles and all events of the Upper Peninsula Elks bowling tournament at Ironwood. Bill Durkins paces the singles division with a 645 series and teamed with Jack Kivilla to lead the doubles class with 1,232. Oscar Pascal is tops in all events with 1,835 and teamed with Worthley Magnuson for second in doubles with 1,193. The tournament opened last weekend.

Clock Hits Midnight For Cinderella Quint

ST. IGNACE—The clock struck midnight for the Rock Little Giants, Cinderella team of the Central League, in Class D regional tournament competition here Wednesday night.

Coach Roman Gill's cagers were sidelined by a bigger, better-shooting Pellston team from Lower Michigan by a 61-45 margin.

One disastrous period put a halt to Rock's surprise drive in the prep basketball tournaments. Rock had come from fourth place in the final Central League standings to capture its district championship in three starts, nipping Trenary and Eben on last-second field goals last weekend.

The upstart Little Giants gave nothing away in the first period, battling the Pellston quint to an 11-11 deadlock.

The second quarter was Rock's downfall as the Little Giants skidded to a seven point production while Pellston nailed the nets for 22.

Pellston's "big four" composed of Stan Bodzik, Mike Thompson, Ed Clear and Doug Lovasen took command of the action in the second period, dominating both boards in impressive fashion. Bodzik, husky 6-2 forward, pumped in six points as did Clear, a 5-11 backcourt performer. Thompson and Lovasen each chipped in four points as Pellston pulled ahead 33-18.

Rock refused to fold, however, and staged a stirring comeback that cut the deficit to eight points midway in the third period. Bob Salmi, season long workhorse for the Little Giants, led the rally with four points as Pellston pulled ahead 33-18.

Groans For Jones As Cassius Gets Unpopular Duke

NEW YORK (AP)—Even in victory the Cassius Clay balloon has been punctured. The self-proclaimed "greatest heavyweight" is just human after all.

There were no knockouts, no knockdowns, no "total annihilation," and brash Cassius was lucky to get a thin, lustily booed decision in 10 rounds over hard-working Doug Jones of New York at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

At times Clay looked like a novice boxer at long range and inside. His bombs didn't explode. And he had to rally furiously in the final two rounds to capture the unanimous verdict.

As for Liston, Clay is no more ready for him this year than Floyd Patterson was in the second minute of his title debacle last Sept. 25. Yet the undaunted Clay said he wanted that "big, ugly bear Liston within six months."

"Clay showed me that I'll get locked up for murder if we're ever matched," was the comment of Liston who saw the closed circuit telecast in Miami Beach.

But at 21, 6-foot-3, 202½ pounds and undefeated, the unmuffled Louisville Lip still has a bright future ahead of him even if he has sworn off poetic predictions.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of the Garden wants to put Clay and Jones in Yankee Stadium this June and there was talk also of a lucrative international fight with Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, the former heavyweight champion.

There were cries of "fake" and "fix" by some of the pro-Jones fans in the capacity crowd of 18,732 seconds after the unanimous decision was announced. Varied objects were tossed into the ring by irate fans.

Judges Artie Aidala and Frank Forbes had the same 5-4-1 scores while referee Joe LoScalzo, on his first important assignment, made it 8-1-1 in rounds for Clay.

NIT Tourney Opens In New York Tonight

By The Associated Press
College basketball's post-season derby draws another starter tonight with the opening of the 26th annual National Invitation Tournament in New York.

The NIT starts off with a first-round doubleheader pairing Villanova against DePaul and Fordham against Memphis State. Six twinbill sessions are scheduled, with the championship final set for March 23.

On Friday night, Cincinnati begins its drive for a third straight national collegiate title in one of four regional semifinals doubleheaders in the 25th NCAA tourney.

Elsewhere, the NCAA small college tournament continues tonight with the national semifinals at Evansville, Ind., and the other event for smaller schools—the NAIA—will have its quarter-finals today and tonight at Kansas City.

After tonight's program, the NIT resumes Saturday afternoon with another first round doubleheader—LaSalle vs. St. Louis and St. Francis of New York vs. Miami of Florida.

Favored Wichita is top-seeded and drew a bye into the quarter-finals along with the other seeded entries, Providence, Marquette and Canisius.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally with its 23-1 record, enters the NCAA firing Friday night against Texas at Lawrence, Kan. Colorado plays Oklahoma City in the other Midwest Regional semifinal game. In the Eastern Regional at College Park, Md., New York University meets Duke and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia plays West Virginia. In the Midwest Regional at East Lansing, Mich., Loyola of Chicago is scheduled against Mississippi State and Illinois takes on Bowling Green. In the West Regional at Provo, Utah, it will be Arizona State against UCLA and San Francisco against Oregon State.

Wittenberg, the nation's first-ranked small college club, led the way into the NCAA college division semifinals at Evansville. The Tigers from Ohio beat Northeastern of Boston 48-47.

Wittenberg meets Oglethorpe tonight and Southern Illinois plays South Dakota State, with the winners competing for the title Friday night.

Oglethorpe edged Philadelphia Textile 36-34 in the quarter-finals, Southern Illinois trimmed Evansville 86-73 and South Dakota State beat Fresno State 84-71.

Top-seeded Grambling advanced in the NAIA marathon with a 56-45 victory over Athens, Ala., Wednesday night but Fort Hays, Kan., upset second-seeded Augsburg 82-71.

In other second round games it was Northern Michigan 101, Central State of Ohio 87; Carson-Newman 70, Indiana State 63; Pan American 64, Stetson 41; Lewis and Clark 88, Transylvania, Ky., 80; Rockhurst 64, Alliance, Pa., 53; Western Carolina 107, Miles, Ala., 86.

The tourney, which started with 32 teams Monday, will have its final Saturday night.

Western Carolina meets Lewis and Clark of Portland, Ore., and Northern Michigan takes on Pan American of Edinburg, Texas, tonight.

Wynn Looks Bad Against Phillies

By The Associated Press

Early Wynn, 43, one victory shy of becoming the 14th major league pitcher to win 300 games, is trying to stick with the Chicago White Sox in a final bid to join the select circle. Philadelphia's Phillies gave him a shove toward the old folks' home Wednesday.

Working without a contract and needing some impressive performance to get White Sox brass to draw one up, Wynn was shelled for two triples, a double, a single and Wes Covington's homer in the first inning of the exhibition game against the Phillies at Sarasota, Fla.

That was it for Wynn. The White Sox managed to turn the tables in the third inning and belted Phil's ace Art Mahafey and reliever Billy Smith for eight runs and a 10-7 victory.

It was a tough day for pitchers. Cleveland 20-game winner Dick Donovan was shelled for seven straight hits and four runs in a 6-5 loss to Houston at Tucson, Ariz., and New York Yankee hopeful Stan Williams was tagged hard as the world champions lost to Detroit 4-2 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for their fourth defeat in five games.

In other Florida games, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Milwaukee 3-1 at West Palm Beach, the New York Mets defeated Cincinnati 3-2 at St. Petersburg, Kansas City nipped Washington 5-4 at Bradenton and Pittsburgh whipped St. Louis 5-3 at Fort Myers. In other Arizona contests, San Francisco squeezed by the Chicago Cubs 3-2 at Mesa and Boston belted the Los Angeles Angels 5-1 at Scottsdale.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League today signed Bob Burton, a 255-pound lineman from Murray State.

Double Plays Bring Smile To Tiger Manager's Face

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Charlie Gehringer's prize pupil — Dick McAuliffe — had a hand in all five double plays by the Detroit Tigers as they edged the New York Yankees 4-2 Wednesday.

Rocky Colavito slammed a three-run home run in the first inning to give the Tigers all the runs they needed.

But it was the five twin-killings that brought smiles to Manager Bob Scheffing's face.

The Tigers were last in the American League in double plays in 1962. Many experts felt this had a lot to do with the club's poor showing, especially after it had been picked to give the Yankees a run for the pennant.

Scheffing felt that one of the reasons was the lack of a good pivot man. Gehringer was called in to work with McAuliffe — who had won a starting job mainly on his hitting ability.

Two rookies followed starter Bob Anderson on the mound for Detroit. Anderson was tagged for both runs and four of the New York hits.

Dick Egan followed and turned in his second impressive performance in three outings. He allowed one hit and struck out four.

Scheffing has been paying particular attention to Egan because the Tigers desperately need another left-hander. Egan posted a 17-11 for Hawaii in the Pacific Coast League last year. Larry Foster worked the last three innings and allowed two hits while holding the world champions in check.

Colavito's homer followed a hit by Jake Wood and a walk to Billy Bruton. He hit the towering drive off Sammy Williams, the right-hander acquired from the Dodgers for Bill Skowron.

The other Detroit run came in the seventh inning on Al Kaline's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded.

Detroit was scheduled to play Milwaukee at West Palm Beach, Fla. today.

Rookie Catcher Gets Oriole Job

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Harry Craft of the Houston Colts says John Bateman is the No. 1 catcher or the young National League club.

The 20-year-old Kileen, Tex., youngster has so impressed Craft that he has become the first big decision in indefinite Colt positions.

Bateman cost the team $77 in contrast to many wealthy bonus boys.

And in the third 15-round bout on the triple championship program, Rodriguez thinks Batting Torres of Mexico will stop Roberto Cruz of The Philippines for the vacant junior welterweight crown.

American Jumpers Arrive In Oslo

OSLO (AP)—The two top American ski jumpers, John Balfanz and Gene Kotlarek, arrived in Oslo Wednesday.

Balfanz and Kotlarek are here to compete against 90 other jumping aces on the reconstructed 96-meter Holmenkollen Hill Sunday.

The way Floyd Patterson is leaping as he skips rope in training, you'd think he was getting ready to jump out of the ring when he meets Sonny Liston in Miami Beach, April 10. Might not be a bad idea.

Kuharich Quits Irish Grid Post

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Joe Kuharich's resignation as Notre Dame head football coach kicks off one of college football's all-time guessing games.

Kuharich's resignation was announced by the university Wednesday and at the same time freshman coach Hugh Devore was named "interim coach for 1963."

As to Kuharich's ultimate successor, that will be tossed around until possibly after the 1963 season and no name probably will be more prominent than that of Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State.

Kuharich quit to take a job with the National Football League as supervisor of NFL officials, replacing Mike Wilson, who is retiring at 66.

The 46-year-old Kuharich, with four years to run on his present contract, had a 17-23 record at Notre Dame after succeeding Terry Brennan in 1958.

Devore, 52, has bounced around from Notre Dame to other colleges back to Notre Dame to professional coaching and again back to Notre Dame for 30 years. He also served as interim coach in 1945 and came up with a 7-2-1 record.

"Interim coach, that's exactly what it means," said Devore. "I have no designs on the main job. After all, I've been coaching for 30 years. I'm here to help out and Kuharich suggested I take over. My job as freshman coach will not change."

Under Kuharich, who formerly coached the Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins in the NFL, Notre Dame had a 5-5 record last year which was not too bad considering the Irish played one of the toughest schedules in the country.

The firing of Brennan brought on a national wave of criticism especially since it happened a few days before Christmas but Notre Dame President Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., said the maneuver was an attempt to combine academic excellency with Notre Dame's athletic record.

Brennan had a 32-18 record at Notre Dame from 1954-58 and, although much better than Kuharich's, it was rather timid in comparison to that of Brennan's predecessor, Frank Leahy, with 87-11-9, or Knute Rockne with 105-12-5.

Except for the loss of quarterback Daryl Lamonica and center Ed Heerster, Notre Dame will have its starting line-up back for 1963. Returning will be 24 lettermen.

Late in the season, rumors were swirling that Kuharich would quit at Notre Dame to take the head coaching job of the Los Angeles Rams. Both Kuharich and Rev. Edmund Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice president of the university and chairman of the faculty board in charge of athletics, issued denials.

The Cincinnati Royals, who open the Eastern Division semifinal playoffs Tuesday at Syracuse, broke the Nats' 10-game winning streak 128-114 in one of the other NBA games scheduled Wednesday. In the others, the Boston Celtics downed the Chicago Zephyrs 121-108 and St. Louis defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 112-98.

The Pistons sputtered along for three periods, then caught fire in the final stanza after New York had gone ahead in the early stages.

Five Pistons were in double figures. Guard Don Ohl led the way with 24. Bailey Howell added 22. Richie Guerin topped the losers with 23.

French Miners' Demands Studied

PARIS (AP)—France's 167,000 striking coal miners took a cool attitude today toward a conciliatory move from President Charles de Gaulle's government.

The Cabinet, after a long discussion of the strike situation, announced it was starting a series of studies of the mine and fuel problem. A Socialist Union spokesman commented that if such a study had been made three months ago, the experts would have approved the miners' demands.

A Cabinet spokesman said De Gaulle no longer plans to make a radio-television appeal to the strikers to abandon their defiance of his government. The spokesman said the president only intervenes when the state is in danger, and De Gaulle doesn't believe the mine strike is endangering the state.

An automobile convoy carrying iron miners to Paris from the Lorraine region is welcomed by a crowd as they ride through the largely Communist town of Pantin on the outskirts of the French capital. A sign at the right reads: "Work For Our Young Men". The miners came to Paris to press their strike demands for more pay and assurance that foreign competition won't put them out of work. Science Fair Will Be Held At Stephenson

STEPHENSON — Stephenson High School Biology students under the direction of instructor Frank Opolka are preparing science projects to compete in the Annual Northern Michigan College Science Fair. Thirty-eight students are working on 25 projects in the field of the biological sciences. Some of the project titles are: The Heart, Blood—Our Amazing Blood Stream, The Water Cycle, Beaver Conservation, Deoxyribonucleic Acid and Aging Deer by their Teeth.

The projects will be judged locally by a committee who will choose the best ten exhibits. These ten will be taken to Marquette for exhibition in the Regional Science Fair. However, all students who made projects will have an opportunity to attend the Science Fair at Northern Michigan College on Saturday afternoon, March 30.

The highlight of the afternoon's activity at Northern Michigan College will be a continuous showing of the film "Friendship 7." The Three Orbit flight of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the first American to orbit the earth.

All projects are made entirely by students. Much time and effort is put in by every student under the guidance of the instructor who may advise but may not build any part of the exhibit.

Judging of projects will be based on creative ability, scientific thought, thoroughness, skill, clarity and dramatic value.

All projects will be on display in the Stephenson High School on March 22, for students. A school assembly will be held during the week of March 25 at which time local winners will be announced. Provisions will also be made at a later date for an evening display for adults, at which time adults may view the exhibits and students will be available to explain and describe their projects.

Follo Speaker At Stephenson

STEPHENSON—Charles Follo, delegate to the Michigan Constitutional Convention will discuss the proposed new Michigan Constitution at the Stephenson Elementary School Tuesday, March 19, at 8 p. m. The public is invited. Mr. Follo is well informed on the proposed new constitution and will answer questions from the floor.

The discussion is under the auspices of the Stephenson P.T.A.

Conference At School March 21

STEPHENSON—Parents of 8th graders will have an opportunity to discuss individual scheduling of students with school officials Thursday, March 21, at 8 p. m., CST in the study hall of Stephenson High School.

All parents of eighth graders who will enter Stephenson High School next year are requested to attend. This includes the parents with eighth graders presently enrolled in the Mellen Public Schools.

The entire high school curriculum will be reviewed for the parents and in addition the procedure of individual and group guidance will be discussed to help students make an intelligent choice of subjects.

School authorities would appreciate both parents in attendance at this meeting but hope that each child will be represented by at least one parent.

House Approves Biggest Military Buying In History

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has passed the biggest military buying bill in history—a $15.8-billion authorization for aircraft, missiles and ships.

The measure goes beyond the administration's wishes and those of Republicans bent on cutting the budget.

The $363.7 million tacked on by the Armed Services Committee to build an extra pair of RS70 reconnaissance strike planes touched off most of the controversy before the bill was passed Wednesday on a 374-33 roll call vote.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara doesn't want to build any more than the three RS70s already authorized, but in a separate vote on the issue the House backed the committee 226 to 179. This puts the RS70 controversy up to the Senate, which gets the bill now.

Rep. Thomas C. Curtis, R-Mo., sponsored a GOP bid for an across-the-board slash in defense authorizations. Curtis sought a 5 per cent reduction in each procurement authorization, and a 12 1/2 per cent cut in the research and development category.

His motion was defeated on a 268 to 149 roll call, largely along party lines.

The Senate Labor Committee agreed to report out the so-called Ford-Canton bill. Gov. Romney's proposal for working out an agreement between management and labor on the issue.

The issue is whether a worker who might benefit by a strike in another plant should receive unemployment compensation.

The Labor Committee heard union and management lawyers argue various legal points of the bill and agreed to place it on the floor for open discussion.

Union representatives were not hostile to the Romney proposal, but insisted some modifications should be made.

The committee in charge, consists of Mrs. Wallace Bennett, chairman, Mrs. Roland Bramer, Mrs. William French, Mrs. Henry Gouin and Mrs. Maurice LaVigne.
